KITTERY—George D. Boulter, 94, long a prominent businessman here, died early today in Portsmouth Hospital where he had been a patient three weeks.

Mr. Boulter was a director of the Portsmouth Trust Company for many years, and was a founder of the old York County Trust Co. He served for more than 40 years as a trustee of the Kittery Water District and had served as its chairman since 1922.

He was a director of the New Hampshire Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and had served as a trustee of Traip Academy.

Mr. Boulter believed himself to be the oldest living former employe of the Kittery Navy Yard.

He was born at Tamworth, N. H., June 19, 1864, and came here with his family before he was a year old.

He attended Kittery schools including Kittery High School, and became an apprentice painter at the shipyard in 1880. After five years employment there he went to work for a Portsmouth painting firm.

As the second eldest of 11 children he helped provide for the family from the start. His father lost an arm in Civil War fighting.

Six of his brothers and sisters were unable to care for themselves when the father died, and Boulter assumed responsibility for them at the time he left the Navy yard.

About 1896 he went into partnership to operate a Kittery-Portsmouth ferry. In 1899 he bought the coal business owned by John Neal for $110, paid rent of $120 a year for office, stable and wharf, and surmounted intense competition to build the George D. Boulter Co. He was its president until he retired in 1934. He also later purchased an inurance agency which he conducted for many years.

He served 14 years as town treasurer, was chairman of the Republican town committee for many years, served one term as state representative and two as state senator.

He was a member of the Odd Fellows for 69 years, and of Naval Lodge, F&AM, for 59 years. He was also a member of Maine Chapter, RAM, Maine Council, R&SM, Saco, Bradford Commandery, KT, Biddeford, the Scottish Rite bodies in this area, Maine Consistory 32d degree, Portland, and Kora Shrine Temple, Lewiston.

He was a past grand in the Odd Fellows, and held membership in Constitution Lodge, K of P, Kittery, and the Warwick Club of Portsmouth.

Mrs. Boulter, the former Annie M. McIntyre, whom he married in June, 1892, died in 1946.

Special Despatch to The Press Herald

Kittery, March 8—Joseph B. Boulter, one of the best known coal dealers in southwestern Maine, died late Saturday evening after being stricken with a heart attack while playing cards at his home on Old Armory Way. Mr. Boulter died within an hour.

He was born at Kittery May 12, 1876, son of Joseph B. and Sarah E. (Smith) Boulter. After completing school he went to Massachusetts where he remained for some years. In 1920 after resigning as superintendent of the Dutton Desk Company at Cambridge, Mass., he returned to Kittery to associate himself with his brother in the coal business here. At the time of his death he was the president of the George D. Boulter Coal Company.

He was an active member of the New England Coal Dealers Association and the Merrimac Valley Coal Dealers' Association. He was a member of Naval Lodge, AF & AM of Kittery, the Maine Consistory of 32nd Degree Masons of Portland, Riverside Lodge, IOOF of Kittery, Alpha Council, Royal Arcanums, Portsmouth Rotary Club and Portsmouth Yacht Club.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth (Deaborn) Boulter; a brother, George D. Boulter and two sisters, Mrs. Cora Thompson and Mrs. Harvey Grant, all of Kittery. The funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon from the Second Christian Church.

Charles E. Bourke

gentleman, family man

Charles E. Bourke, 86, remembered by his family as a true gentleman, died unexpectedly Monday at a local health care facility.

"Anyone who did interact with him just liked him immediately," said Terri Ann Bourke, a granddaughter. "The thing about Grampy is (that) he just was one of the most pleasant people to meet and talk with," she said. "If you were talking to him, he was looking at you, and he was listening, and he would make a comment, and he would stay calm about the whole thing," she said.

Mr. Bourke also looked the part of a gentleman. "He was one of those people that always dressed up," Terri Ann Bourke said. "If he was going to meet me to go someplace, certainly he'd have a jacket with a tie underneath," she said.

PASSAGES

Each day the newspaper selects one obituary and seeks to learn more about the life of a person who has lived and worked in Maine. We look for a person who has made a mark on the community or the person's family and circle of friends in small but lasting ways.

A brother-in-law, Leon Tebbetts, called him "one of the handsomest young men in Portland."

Family members said he was always ready to offer insightful and sincere words to family and friends. A great-grandson, Sean Conroy, summed up Mr. Bourke as nice, funny and complete.

Mr. Bourke was a loving and devoted husband, his granddaughter said.

A longtime member of the Masons and Kora

Temple Shrine, Mr. Bourke loved reading and studying history, particularly the life of Winston Churchill. Mr. Bourke also enjoyed crossword puzzles — especially the New York Times puzzle — languages and golf.

Mr. Bourke lived at 100 State Street.

A lifelong resident of Portland, he was the son of Frank and Ida Stebbins Bourke. He was educated in Portland schools. During a long and varied career, he ran a variety store, drove a taxi and worked as a mechanic.

Survivors include his wife, Beulah (Tebbetts) of Portland; a son, Charles T. of Portland; one sister, Hazel Leder of Arlington, Virginia; a brother-in-law, Leon Tebbetts of Hallowell; two grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Private services and burial at Forest City Cemetery in South Portland will be held at the convenience of the family.

William Richard 'Billy' Bourque Sr. master electrician; retired shipyard worker

SPRINGVALE — William Richard 'Billy' Bourque Sr., 64, of Frost Street died Wednesday at Maine Medical Center in Portland after a brief illness.

He was born in Portland, a son of William G. and Cecile Bouchard Bourque, and attended St. Ignatius School in Sanford, where he was active in sports. In 1955, he graduated from Sanford High School.

From 1955 until 1959, he served in the Navy on the USS Collette in the Pacific. He was on the ship during A-bomb testing at Bikini Atoll in the Marshall Islands and was proud of his involvement in the project, his family said.

Mr. Bourque was a master electrician and retired from the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard in 1996. He also spent seven years in Bermuda as a civil service electrician at the former Naval air station there.

Following his retirement, he worked for a short time at the Sanford-Springvale YMCA. At the time of his death, he was self-employed, upgrading lighting at Jagger Brothers yarn mill.

Mr. Bourque was one of the founding members of the Sanford-Springvale Youth Athletic Association. His hobbies included spending time with his family and genealogy. He also was a member of the Springvale Masonic Lodge and the Sanford Lodge of Elks.

Surviving are his wife of 44 years, Eleanor Hersom Bourque of Springvale; two daughters, Mrs. William (April) Powell of Hoopston, Ill., and Mrs. Jean (Dawn) Boisvert of Lyman; two sons, William Jr. of Sanford and Dwayne of Springvale; three sisters, Anita Kallis, Shirley Clark and Marlene Cyr, all of Sanford; two brothers, Donald and Patrick, both of Sanford; nine grandchildren and three great-grandsons.

Visiting hours will be from noon Saturday until a memorial service begins at 1 p.m. at Heald Funeral Home, 61 Main St., Springvale. The Rev. Ginny Reed will officiate. Burial will be in Riverside Cemetery. A gathering will follow the service in the Heald Family Center.
