Charles Brown, 82, tried to be 'best person he could be'

SPRINGVALE — Charles W. Brown, 82, who died at his Springvale home Friday, was a man who loved to do things by the book, and to do them well.

He was so thorough he made sure to travel to all 50 states. He was so proper, he wore a tie every day of the week. He was so steady, he spent hours carving complete sets of dominoes.

Charles Brown

selects one obituary and seeks to learn more about the life of a person who has lived and worked in Maine. We look for a person who has made a mark on the community or the person's family and circle of friends in lasting ways.

Those closest to Mr. Brown say he excelled at everything he tried his hand at. But, they add, he was best at maintaining his ties to community and family.

"He was always there for you," said younger brother David Brown. "He was the first in line if you needed something."

Mr. Brown, called "Charlie" by group of people, was born in

Mr. Brown was born in Portsmouth, N.H., but grew up in Sanford and Alfred. He was the eldest son of Charles W. Sr. and Gertrude F. Lockhart Brown.

His younger siblings remember him as serious-minded and studious, an excellent student. He was the big brother they looked up to, and some

He spent nearly 30 years working at C.W. Brown & Sons with his father and four brothers, as a general contractor. He also owned a building supply store in Springvale. Brother Franklin recalls Mr. Brown was an excellent carpenter, who renovated his own home and built a camp for his family at Mousam Lake.

Mr. Brown in 1972 switched to the appraisal business and founded Mousam Valley Appraisal Service.

Upon his retirement in 1993, Mr. Brown continued his travels across North America with his wife in their Chinook Motor Home. He also had more time for hobbies, like organizing his stamp collection and tending his garden.

A World War II veteran, Mr. Brown kept in touch with his U.S. Navy mates on the USS Hutchins and participated in reunions throughout the country.

Mr. Brown was also heavily involved in the Springvale Masonic Lodge, serving as master for a period. He was a Rotarian for 33 years. He also belonged to the York Rite and Scottish Rite lodges. He was a longtime member of the Pleasant Street Free Baptist Church and served as a trustee and member of its nominating committee. He was a charter member of the Sanford-Springvale Chamber of Commerce and a charter member of the Springvale Development Corp.

Surviving are his wife of more than 60 years, Arlene Merrifield Brown; three daughters, Linda Kay Brown of Springvale, Deanna Louise Culbert of Monroe, Conn., and Cynthia Janet Brown of Boca Raton, Fla.; two grandchildren Adams Charles Culbert of Brooklyn, N.H., and Lisa Ann Culbert of Monroe, Conn.; two sisters, Gertrude Cheney of North Berwick and Gladys Roberts of Alfred; two brothers, David of Sanford and Franklin of Shapleigh.

A visiting hour will begin at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Pleasant Street Free Baptist Church. A funeral will follow at 3 p.m. with the Rev. Dennis Reeves officiating. Burial will be at 9 a.m. Monday at the Riverside Cemetery, Springvale, with a Masonic service. Arrangements are by Johnson Funeral Home, North Berwick.

mechanic, first for Fuller's Garage in Steep Falls and later at Mobil stations in Standish and Raymond.

"Working in the garage, he knew everybody in the area and everybody knew him," said his son, Frank E. Brown. He also worked on vehicles for many summer visitors to the lakes region.

"Summer people used to come up during the winter from Massachusetts to have him work on their cars," said his son. "Because he was trustworthy, and he knew what he was doing."

"Once there was a fellow with a farm tractor that nobody could fix right. He said 'What's it do?' My father never even saw the vehicle, and he told him what to do to fix it."

During the 1930s, Mr. Brown helped build the Sebago Lake State Park while with the Civilian Conservation Corps.

Clarence Brown

Before that, he worked on the Saco River log drives that took logs from Fryeburg down to Deering Lumber Co. in Biddeford. "Now, there's only one man left alive who went on the drives," said his son. "Dad was the next to the last."

He was an avid trapper and he enjoyed rabbit and deer hunting until as recently as three years ago. He enjoyed dancing, especially the polka, at the Buxton Grange, and he spent a few days each fall at the Fryeburg Fair.

"He was full of jokes, and hunting and fishing stories," said his son.

Born in Standish, a son of Frank E. and Maude Ridlon Brown, he attended Standish schools as well as an automotive trade school in Massachusetts.
