Dr. Walter S. Coleman, 71, of 154 Concord Street, lifelong resident of Portland and for 50 years practicing dentist here died this afternoon in the Maine General Hospital.

He underwent a serious operation last Winter, but recovered and resumed practice to complete half a century in the profession before retiring last June.

Born in Portland March 2, 1874, Dr. Coleman was graduated from Westbrook Seminary and then took a medical course at the Portland

Medical School. He completed his dental training at Harvard Dental School, graduating in 1895.

He began practice here in the office of his father, Dr. Frank D. Coleman of this City, later taking over the entire practice.

He was a 32nd degree Mason, a past master of Deering Lodge, AF&AM, and a past high priest of Mt. Sinai Chapter, Woodfords, also a member of Portland Commandery. He was active in the work of these organizations up to recent years.

Dr. Coleman was interested in music, and while at the dental school sang in the Trinity Church Choir in Boston. Afterwards, in Portland, he was a member of the choirs of Wiliston Congregational and the First Parish Churches.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Gertrude Richardson Coleman; a son, Myron H. Coleman; and two grandchildren, Janel L. Coleman and Whitney H. Coleman, the latter in training in the U. S. Navy in California.
