Remarks

Born in Annapolis. N. S. Pastor Cong. Church

Rev. Howard W. Collins

(Communicated)

The many friends of Howard W. Collins were shocked and grieved to hear of his sudden passing, which occurred at West Newfield, July 9.

Born in Annapolis, N. S., in 1871, Mr. Collins moved to Eastport, with his parents when 15 years old. With his father, John Collins, he conducted a shoe-repairing shop in the Whalen Block on Boynton St. Later he was employed in the Bridgham fruit store.

The call to Christian service led him into the ministry, and he received his training at Bangor Theological Seminary. As a member of the East Maine conference, he served at North Waldoboro and Round Pond, when he was transferred to the Congregational conference, having appointments at Machiasport, Deer Isle, Standish, East Sumner, Wilmot, N. H., Hampstead, N. H., Petersham, Mass., Newfield, and West Newfield.

In 1899, he married Miss Olive M. Farris, a teacher in the public schools of Eastport, who, with one daughter, Lisle M. of Arlington, Mass., and three sons, Ralph W. of Rowley, Mass., Wesley E. of Hampstead, N. H. and John M. survives him.

The funeral service was held at the Congregational Church. The Rev. Rodney E. Roundy, State secretary of Congregational churches, the Rev. Robert Lawton, a former pastor, and the Rev. Louis C. Harnish were the officiating clergymen. The Masonic order was present and had a part in the service.

Mrs. George T. Hilyard, a sister, Mrs. James W. Mosley, Mrs. Florence I. Boyden, and Mrs. Vincent H. Lodge of Eastport, were among the out of town people who attended the funeral.

MORRILL W. 'DAVE' COLLINS

1920-2005

FARMINGTON — Morrill W. "Dave" Collins, 85, of Farmington Falls died Sunday, Dec. 4, 2005, at Sandy River Nursing Home after a long illness.

Born June 19, 1920, in Farmington, he was a son of William and Susie (Morrill) Collins. A World War II veteran, he was a staff sergeant in the 748th Army field artillery, in Southern France and Germany.

Following his military service Morrill worked for many years as a hand sewer at Bass Shoe in Wilton, later teaching the skill to others and eventually becoming foreman of the department. During that time he attended evening classes at CMVT. He obtained his insurance agent license, left the shoe shop and subsequently worked for several area insurance agencies.

Morrill was a founding member of the Farmington Falls Volunteer Fire Department, which eventually merged with the Farmington Fire Department. During his tenure as a firefighter he achieved the rank of lieutenant, training officer and captain.

In the early days of the volunteer department he was active in many fundraisers including tree cutting and setting foundations for homes.

He was also well known as the chief chicken barbeque chef for the department's annual field day, cooking 300-400 half chickens at this event each year.

Morrill helped found the Farmington Falls Hawks Little League Team which is still in existence today. He was a member of Franklin Lodge in New Sharon and served as Master, District Deputy and Grand Master. He was also a member of Kora Temple.

He will be remembered by his family as a carpenter, mechanic and general "mister fix it." A child of the depression, he was very adept at making things from spare parts, be it a farm vehicle, go-cart, or garden tool. Whenever a friend, neighbor, or family member was building a house, barn or whatever, he would arrive tools in hand to help out. His grandchildren cherish memories of moonlight snowmobile rides, fishing expeditions, and "don't tell your grandmother" snacks and adventures.

He is survived by his son, Walter Collins and wife Terry of Farmington; daughter Gail Hillstrom and husband David of Farmingdale; grandson Mark Hillstrom of Belgrade; granddaughters Amy Hillstrom of Farmingdale and Marcy Caton and husband Eugene of Phillips; great-grandson Vincent Caton; and many nieces, nephews and cousins.

He was predeceased by his wife of more than 60 years, Carlene; his brother, Norman Collins; his sisters, Elzie Kilponen and Rose Sprague.

Funeral services will be held 10 a.m. Friday, Dec. 9, at the Wiles Funeral Home, Cremation Service & Remembrance Center, 137 Farmington Falls Road, Farmington, with the Rev. John Tolman officiating.

Family and friends are invited to call from 6 to 8 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 8, at the funeral home. Interment will be at the Lakeview Cemetery in Wilton.

Gifts may be given in Morrill's memory to a local charity of one's choice. Words of condolence may be expressed at wilesfuneralhomes@verizon.net
