Clarence S. "Cal" Cressey Jr. school custodial staff head; sold antiques

WESTBROOK - Clarence Stanwood "Cal" Cressey Jr., 76, an insurance salesman and building manager who enjoyed buying, selling and restoring antiques, died Tuesday at Maine Medical Center after a long illness.

Mr. Cressey was a salesman for about 13 years for Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. in Portland. More recently he was head of the custodial department at Portland Regional Vocational Technical Center, retiring about 15 years ago.

PASSAGES

Each day the newspaper selects one obituary and seeks to learn more about the life of a person who has lived and worked in Maine. We look for a person who has made a mark on the community or the person's family and circle of friends in small but lasting ways.

For several years he and his wife, Irene W. Cressey, ran the Whit's End antiques business on Washington Avenue. He bought, sold and refinished furniture in the small shop, and a good percentage of the business was wholesale.

Mr. Cressey enjoyed refinishing furniture and old wooden boats, said his son, Dean Cressey. That was a skill he had learned as a young man, working on boats for the former Frost Marine in South Portland.

"He used to do a lot of work with old Chris Crafts," said his son. "He also restored old lobster boats. He bought one for $1 one time, and redid the whole thing for a friend who put it up on Sebago Lake. It was funny to see that 34-foot lobster boat up on the lake."

"Cal was an excellent man to work with," said Rick Nugent, a friend and co-worker at the vocational technical center. "He hired me back in 1978. He was a kind-hearted man. He enjoyed having fun, and made work more enjoyable. You could tell when he was up to something; he had this twinkle in his eye."

Cressey

Mr. Cressey's other hobbies included golf, handball, playing cards and square dancing. He loved watching NASCAR auto racing on television, and he was a big fan of race driver Jeff Gordon.

Since 1988 Mr. Cressey lived most of the year in Seminole, Fla.

"He's been a very good friend and neighbor," said Ann Bruni, who with her husband, Carlo, have been longtime friends and neighbors in Florida. "He loved to dance. Even when he was hurting, he'd get out and dance up a storm."

"He loved to play cards, too," Bruni said. "He didn't like to lose, but he sure loved to play."

Born in Portland, a son of Clarence S. and Helen M. Whitcomb Cressey, he graduated from Deering High School. He was a sergeant in the Army and saw action in Europe during World War II.

He was a member of the American Legion, the Masons, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and a former member of the Elks Club.

Surviving are his wife, Irene W. Cressey of Westbrook; a son, Dean M. Cressey of Falmouth; two stepsons, Richard C. Sweeney Jr. of Falmouth and Gary W. Sweeney of Portland; two daughters, Gail Cressey of Portland and Randi Burnell of Windham; two stepdaughters, Arlene Donatelli of Gorham and Delrene Goodnow of Westbrook; two sisters, Margie Bartlett of South Portland and Donna Davis of Florida; 15 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

A private graveside service will be held. Burial will be in Brooklawn Memorial Park. Arrangements are by Jones, Rich & Hutchins Funeral Home, 199 Woodford St.

Edward E. Crocker

Edward E. Crocker, 77, the oldest keeper of records and seals in the Knights of Pythias in Maine, and long connected with the wholesale shoe trade in this City, died in his sleep during the night at the home of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ella K. Crocker, 98 Grant Street. He had been in failing health in recent years, but was out Sunday as usual, and appeared in his usual health when he retired for the night.

Born in Portland Jan. 16, 1861, when a small child, Mr. Crocker moved with his parents to South Portland, where he spent his early life on a farm. He received his education in the schools of that city and upon graduating from South Portland High School came to Portland, where he had since lived. He was for many years a salesman for the former A. F. Cox & Son, Portland shoe manufacturers, and upon their closing out their business Mr. Crocker continued a business of his own with office at 12 Monument Square.

As a young man Mr. Crocker joined Munjoy Lodge, No. 6, Knights of Pythias, of Portland, serving as its secretary up to the time of his death, a period of 54 years. He was also a member of Atlantic Lodge, F. & A. M.

He is survived by his granddaughter, Miss Bertha K. Crocker, and two sisters, the Misses Lizzie V. and Gertrude Crocker, all of Portland; also by four nephews, Nathan, John and Gilbert Crocker, all of this City, and Thomas Crocker, who resides out of the State.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2.30 p. m., in the Chapel of James A. Martin & Son, 17 Myrtle Street, and interment will be in Forest City Cemetery.
