The body of Frederick R. Dyer, 61, resident of this city since 1922 and former United States District Attorney, who died in London, Eng., Saturday, will be brought to New York Sept. 19 aboard the liner Majestic, according to a radiogram from his daughter, Miss Ann Dyer, to his law partners here, Carroll B. Skillin and W. Mayo Payson. Mr. Skillin and Mr. Payson will meet Miss Dyer at New York and assist in arranging transportation of the body to Portland.

Mr. Dyer had been able to attend to his practice here but had not been in good health for several years. He sailed Aug. 15 to join his daughter, who has been studying voice culture abroad, and had hoped the voyage and change in climate would benefit his health.

Born at Old Town, Oct. 4, 1873, Mr. Dyer moved to Canton with his parents during his infancy and attended the schools of that town. He was graduated from Hebron Academy and attended Colby College a year before becoming a law student in the office of Oscar H. Hersey at Buckfield. He fitted for his profession there and in 1897 was admitted to the Oxford County bar. An active Republican, he took part in every campaign in that section for 25 years. In 1907 he served in the House, was elected county attorney in 1912, was appointed to fill a vacancy in 1916 and again was elected in 1918. He served as a member of the State Committee several years and for six years was secretary.

Upon the recommendation of the late Senator Bert M. Fernald he was appointed U. S. District Attorney in 1922 and upon assuming the position on July 1 of that year became a resident of Portland. He served 11½ years, retiring last December. Because of National Prohibition, which became effective shortly before he entered office, Mr. Dyer's duties as federal prosecuting officer were doubled and finally necessitated the appointment of an assistant occupied in enforcement activities through the procedure of the statutes in the U. S. District and Circuit Courts. His aggressive policy in this federal office constantly drew remarks from his superiors that Maine was having the most vigorous enforcement of the prohibitory law of any state in the Union.

For a number of years he had been a member of the Board of Trustees of Hebron Academy and had worked zealously for the welfare of the institution.

His record in the Masonic fraternities includes Evening Star Lodge of Buckfield, which he served twice as worshipful master, in 1903 and 1907, Turner Chapter of Turner and St. Alban Commandery of this city. He was a member of the Cumberland Bar Association, Woodfords Club, Portland Lodge of Elks by dimit from Rumford Lodge and formerly was a member of the Portland Club.

His daughter is his only near surviving relative.

CAPE ELIZABETH - Herbert S. Herb Dyer, 84, formerly of South Portland, died July 9, 2003 at his residence. He was born in Portland, a son of Ernest and Edith (Strout) Dyer and was a graduate of South Portland High School, Class of 1938. While in high school Herb excelled in athletics. While he participated on the gridiron and basketball court it was as a slugging first baseman for the Red Riots that he excelled. He was an All-Telegram selection in 1937 and 1938, and was crowned batting champion in 1937 with a lofty .459 average. In 1939, Herbie finished a second successful summer in the Boston Park League, where he hit .441 for the St. Augustine team. Not surprising, he was an all-star selection in the prestigious summer circuit. This performance earned him a farm contract from the Boston Red Sox to whom he had been recommended by Joe Jabber Joyce (Maine Hall Of Fame 1975). The young Dyer opened his pro career at Rocky Mt. North Carolina in the Piedmont League but after a couple of weeks joined the Centreville Club, Herb was shifted to the outfield and was noted for long hitting. Herb enjoyed 34 years as a Western Maine umpire and countless box scores show: Umps H. Dyer and D. Dyer because he often teamed with his brother, Don and they were dependable, hustling members of the board. Herb Dyer could hit and he could umpire and he did both with real authority. And he brought dignity and class to the diamond. He was inducted into the Maine Baseball Hall of Fame July 9, 1989. He was employed for over 35 years at the Rigby Yard of the Maine Central Railroad as yardmaster. He and his wife Pauline wintered in Lake Wales, Fla. for twenty years. He was a member of the Elm Street United Methodist Church and Hiram Masonic Lodge. His wife Pauline died Oct. 18, 2002. Survivors include daughter, Bonnie Babine and her husband, Dick of Scarborough; son, Gary Dyer of Miami, Fla.; sister, Glenys Milton of Portland; brother, George Dyer of Methuen, Mass.; granddaughter, Kristin, and her husband, Paul; and great-grandson, Alden of South Portland; grandson, Matthew and his wife, Rhonda; and great-grandson, Cameron of Hollis. unexpected suddenness with which musical inspiration overtook him. "A piece of paper, quick," he once shouted at his wife as they were strolling in a park. The only piece of paper Frau Strauss could find was a 100 gulden note, and across it Strauss scribbled a few notes which, in the workshop later, developed into "Nur Fuer Natur."

The piece brought the composer 120,000 gulden, which he regarded a fair return on the 100 gulden note.

Isaac W. Dyer, 81, District Attorney Three Terms, Dies

Practiced Law Nearly 50 Years Until Ill Health Forced Retirement

Three years of failing health ended in the death Saturday noon at his home, 102 Park Street of Isaac Watson Dyer, 81, former U. S. District Attorney, and one-time member of the Maine Legislature. At the time of his appointment as district attorney for Maine by President Harrison in 1890 he was the youngest attorney to hold this office. He served three terms in office, from 1890 to 1894 and from 1898 to 1906.

He served one term in the State Legislature in 1885 and 1886 as representative of his native town of Baldwin. He had been associated with the late Judge Goddard, two years before, in the work of revising the Maine Statutes, and while in the legislature he was a member of the Committee on Legal Affairs. He had served as lecturer at the University of Maine Law School at one time, discussing the subjects of liberal jurisdiction and procedure and private corporations.

After practicing law nearly 50 years, Mr. Dyer retired several years ago because of ill health. He devoted much time to reading, which had always been one of his great interests. He was considered an authority on the works of Thomas Carlyle.

Mr. Dyer was born in Baldwin, Sept. 15, 1855, the son of Isaac and Martha Porter Dyer. His early schooling was received at Baldwin and in Portland. He was graduated from Bowdoin College in 1873 and subsequently attended Harvard Law School. He was admitted to the Maine bar in 1880. He was the author of "Maine Corporation Laws" and "Maine Insolvency Laws."

In addition to his practice of law and his studies in literature, he was much interested in politics. He was a Republican and as a young man served as chairman of the Republican City Committee. He was often a speaker before various organizations, discussing many subjects.

Mr. Dyer was a member of the Cumberland County, Maine and American Bar Associations, the Maine Historical Society, Masonic Order and Knights of Pythias, and was for several years a prominent member of the Cumberland Club.
