CARROLL H. FAULKNER

BANGOR - Carroll H. Faulkner, 83, made his final surrender Friday, Aug. 10, 2007. He died as he wished at home, where during the final months of a long illness he received the loving ministrations of family and friends, clergy, and the staff and volunteers of New Hope Hospice in Eddington. Carroll came into the world during a blizzard Jan. 24, 1924, on the shores of Grand Lake in Weston, the seventh of eight living children born to Bertha (Austin) and Leon E. Faulkner.

After finishing the eighth grade at the one-room schoolhouse that still stands in Orient, he willingly went into the woods to work in his father's lumber camps. One month after his 18th birthday, Carroll was drafted into the U.S. Army. After six months of overseas training, he shipped out to the Pacific theater of World War II and participated in seven landings between September 1942 and August 1945. In 1948 Carroll married Averill "Tillie" Thibau and they raised their two daughters in Old Town. By 1968 Carroll found his true calling and began four decades of devoted service to the fellowship of Alcoholics Anonymous and his career as a detox/rehabilitation counselor. He lost his first wife in 1978. In June 1981, he married Ann Holland, whom he met while they both worked at Eastern Maine Medical Center, Bangor. From then on, except for 3 1/2 years when Ann's work took them to Oklahoma, they lived happily in their home in Bangor.

Carroll loved life and shared that joy with friends. He enjoyed fishing, telling and hearing tales of the North Woods, country music, spending time in his workshop and cheering on the Boston Red Sox. He was proud of his Aroostook County roots and enjoyed the annual Faulkner family reunions held for many years in Wypitlock. One August, that occasion included a visit to the graveyard on Pee-Ka-Boo Mountain, near Selden, where the founders of this clan lie buried. Patrick, an immigrant from Dublin, Ireland, and his wife, Eunice (Crocker) Faulkner, were Carroll's great-grandparents. Carroll was a Life Member of VFW Post No. 3381 and a Mason in the Star of the East Lodge No. 60 AF & AM, both in Old Town. The centerpiece of Carroll's life was his tireless commitment to passing on to other alcoholics an understanding of the principles and practice of the life-changing, life-saving program, for which he was so grateful. He was truly a power of example whose influence will be felt widely for generations.

Carroll is survived by his wife Dr. Ann Holland; and three daughters and their husbands Diane Faulkner and Jerry Haynes of Blytheville, S.C.; Rosemary (Faulkner) and Tony Richard of Old Town and Emilie Holland and Charles Westcott of South Kingstown, R.I. He also leaves one brother Jasper Faulkner and his wife, Karen, of Winn; two grandchildren, Amanda Richard and her life partner, Donita Gallant, of Milford and Anthony J. "TJ" Richard Jr. of Rockland; special nephews, Freddie Porter of Zephyrhills, Fla., and Sumner Faulkner of Bangor; many other nephews, nieces and cousins. He will be keenly missed as well by his father-in-law, Wendell Livingston of Sunbury Village, Bangor; sister-in-law, Jane Livingston of Veazie; and a special niece, Grace Livingston of Huntington Beach, Calif.; special friend Emma Jeane Foster of Orrington; and a host of anonymous "friends of Bill W." across the country.

DR. GEORGE A. FAULKNER JR.

CAPE PORPOISE -- Dr. George Annand Faulkner Jr., of Land's End, Cape Porpoise, passed away after a brief illness on April 15 in St. Petersburg, Fla., with his wife Elizabeth, at his side.

He was born to George A. and Mildred (Jordan) Faulkner in Augusta on Aug. 23, 1922. As a small child, the family moved to Winter Harbor to be near his mother's family, the Jordans, and as a teenager he moved to Ellsworth where he attended and graduated from Ellsworth High School. After attending the University of Maine, he entered the Army during World War II. Selected for the Army Dental Corp program, he attended and graduated from Tufts Dental School. As the war had ended by the time of his graduation, he was released from his military obligation. Employed by the State of Maine in the Dental Program, he worked in a mobile dental unit that traveled to the rural areas and Indian reservations in the state. It was while employed by the State of Maine that he met his future wife, Elizabeth Davis of Sanford, a dental hygienist, also employed by the state's Dental Program. With the birth of their first child, George III, Dr. Faulkner settled in and started a dental practice in Sanford.

Called back into the Army at the beginning of the Korean Conflict, Dr. Faulkner, with his wife and now three sons, served at Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio, Texas, and with the 82nd Airborne at Fort Bragg in Fayetteville, N.C., where his fourth son, John, was born.

Returning to Maine, the Faulknors settled on Oak Street in Alfred where their children remember a wonderful childhood spent in a home filled with happy memories.

Dr. Faulkner spent countless hours with his children, always at their sporting and school events, skiing at Saddleback Mountain in Rangeley, summers at Mousam Lake in Shapleigh, and on cross county trips across the United States and Canada as far as Alaska. A favorite of his 12 grandchildren, he took great pride in their accomplishments.

With his wide circle of friends, the Faulknors traveled throughout United States, Europe and Africa, played golf in Hawaii, Prince Edward Island and at St. Andrews in Scotland, and went on ski trips to Colorado. A favorite of his golfing friends was the Annual Fall Open hosted by the Faulknors for their friends at the Mingo Springs Golf Club in Rangeley.

After his family and friends, another great passion was his ancestral home on t h e
