PASSAGES

Each Sunday the

Telegram selects one obituary and seeks to learn more about the life of a person who has lived and worked in Maine. We look for a person who has made a mark on the community or the person's family and circle of friends in small but lasting ways.

For 10 years, he worked for the Portland Water District, eventually becoming a foreman. He later worked for Oakhurst Dairy as a commercial driver, handling a number of different delivery routes, mostly in Greater Portland and Old Orchard Beach.

From 1968 to 1972, Mr. Foster and his wife, Jean (Dodge) Foster, owned and operated Foster's Variety, a convenience store on Main Street in South Portland. They then purchased the Steep Falls Market, which they ran for seven years.

From 1982 to 1988, Mr. Foster and his wife were self-employed as long-distance truckers, often traveling together coast-to-coast.

"On one trip we were gone for three months," his wife said. "That's a long time to live out of a cab."

Mr. Foster later took accounting courses at Andover College, maintaining a 4.0 grade-point average, and became a licensed federal tax preparer.

Last summer, he received his diploma from Freeport High School, which he earned by working one-on-one with a teacher.

"He was a very proud of that," his wife said.

Until his health became a problem, Mr. Foster enjoyed playing golf, and his hobbies included photography, model airplanes, ham radios and computers.

He was a member of the Corner Stone Masonic Lodge.

In addition to his wife, surviving are his mother of Falmouth; three daughters, Susan Foster of Brunswick, Mrs. Albert (Penny Lee) Springer of Standish and Mrs. Clarence (Leslie) Hanscom of Steep Falls; two brothers, Roy of Gray and Stephen of Augusta; two sisters, Mrs. Eugene (Albertine) Parker of Cape Elizabeth and Mrs. Alton (Lois) Hope of Georgia; and four grandchildren.
