Pearce J. Francis, 51, state insurance commissioner long prominent in insurance and musical circles in Portland and Maine, died this morning in his home at 28 Prospect Street after an illness of 2½ months. He suffered a heart attack early in December and was hospitalized several weeks but recently returned to his home and was apparently making favorable progress toward recovery.

Born at Lynn, Mass., June 4, 1890, son of Mrs. Kate Francis and the late Andrew Francis, he received his education in the schools of that city, entered the employ of the General Electric Company and was a salesman in Massachusetts and in Maine, coming to Portland in 1916.

In 1922 he entered the employ of the Travelers Insurance Company here and after three years was appointed manager of the life, accident and group insurance departments. He resigned in January, 1940, to become associated with G. M. Barney, general agent.

In December, 1940, Mr. Francis was appointed state insurance commissioner by former Governor Lewis O. Barrows and had held the office since.

Governor Sewall last year named Mr. Francis vice chairman of civilian defense for Maine in the latter's capacity as insurance commissioner.

Mr. Francis was prominent in musical circles in the City, including the Portland Men's Singing Club, and as a baritone was a member of Portland church choirs, that of the First Universalist Church, Congress Square, over a long period, and in recent years of Williston Congregational Church. He was also first vice president of the Woodfords Club and a member of the Settlers' Club, a social luncheon group. He was a 32nd degree Scottish Rite Mason and a member of Portland Lodge. Until recently he was a member of the Portland Rotary Club and served as its song leader. He was also a member of the State Street Congregational Church.

Surviving, besides his mother, who resides in Lynn, are his widow, Mrs. Ethel C. Francis; a daughter, Miss Elizabeth Francis, a student at the Chamberlain School, Boston; a son, Luther B. Francis, a senior in Deering High School, and a sister, Mrs. Harold C. Freeman of Portsmouth, N. H.

Charles W. Frank died suddenly Sunday at his home on Main Street. He was found dead in his bed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie C. Cotton with whom he lived. Dr. Frederick E. Wheet, medical examiner, was summoned and pronounced death to heart disease.

Mr. Frank was 67 years of age and was born at Gray. He was the son of the late Alvin and Sarah Allen Frank. He had been a resident of Westbrook for the past 46 years and for a number of years resided on Forest Street. He formerly was employed at the S. D. Warren Paper Mills as foreman in the coating department.

Twenty years, Mr. Frank resigned from the mill and entered the insurance business. He was also associated with his son, Raymond Frank of Englewood, N. J., in operating a boys' camp at Weld.

Mr. Frank was a member of the Westbrook Kiwanis Club, member of Warren Phillips Lodge, F. and A. M., a past chancellor commander of the Presumpscot Valley Lodge, Knights of Pythias, the Honorary Association of Presumpscot Hose Company, and a committeeman of Troop Two, Boy Scouts.
