Haley, Thomas J.*

Thomas J. Haley, 74

SACO -- Thomas J. Haley, 74, a resident of Weymouth Street, passed away on Monday, Oct. 2, 2006, at his residence.

He was born on July 7, 1932, in Biddeford, the son of Joseph A. and Ruth Jordan Haley. Tom graduated from Thornton Academy, class of 1950. He also attended the University of Maine Orono and the University of Maine Portland.

On April 25, 1953, he married his wife, the former Elaine Rideout. Tom and Elaine raised their family in the close-knit neighborhood of Weymouth Street.

Tom served in the apprentice program at Lennox Industries in Syracuse, N.Y. He then served his country in the United States Army. After completion of his military service in 1955, Tom joined his father in the family business as a service technician. He became president of Haley's Metal Shop in Biddeford in 1967 and ran the company for 30 years until retirement in 1997.

Mr. Haley was a 53-year member and past master of the Dunlap Blue Lodge in Biddeford. He was a member of the York Royal Chapter, St. Amand Knights Templar, and a member of Lodge Council Chapter Consistory. Mr. Haley was the past president of York County Shrine Club and also served as potentate of Kora Temple in 1983.

Mr. Haley was a member of the Biddeford & Saco Rotary Club and was a Paul Harris Fellow recipient. He was a director Emeritus of Southern Maine Medical Center and honorary corporator of Biddeford Savings Bank. He also was on the Board of Laurel Hill Cemetery, Economic Development Commission of Saco, and was an umpire and coach of Saco Little League for several years.

Mr. Haley was a member of the United Baptist Church in Saco.

His hobbies included fishing, hunting, and making furniture in his workshop. He enjoyed his annual hunting trip with the same group of close friends for over 40 years, and fishing with his son and three grandsons at East Grand Lake in Maine.

Tom's three grandsons were a source of pride and joy as he cheered them on the playing field and at their school functions. He was known for his quick wit and teasing way, a prankster all his life. He had a story for every occasion. Tom got genuine satisfaction from helping children, whether playing Santa Claus at Christmas or volunteering his time with the Shrine Hospital Boards.

He is survived by his wife of 53 years and best friend, Elaine Rideout Haley of Saco; two children, Brian Haley and his wife Susan of Saco, and Joyce Haley Martin of Saco; three grandsons, Matthew and Benjamin Haley, and Thomas Haley Martin; two sisters, Joyce Heffernan of Brea, Calif., and Marilyn Record of Napa, Calif.; and several nieces and nephews.

Visiting hours will be from 6-8 p.m. Wednesday, and 2-4 and 6-8 p.m. Thursday from Cote Funeral Home, corner of Beach and James St., Saco. A Funeral Service will be held at 11 a.m. Friday from the United Baptist Church in Saco. Burial will be private at a later date. Arrangements are by Cote Funeral Home, Saco.

his home remained unconscious until noon of that day. He had since been in a coma.

Born in Portland, Jan. 6, 1857, son of Charles H. and Caroline Page Hall, he received his education in the public schools of the City, being graduated from Portland High School with the Class of 1874. That year he began his business career as a clerk in the office of the ship brokerage firm of Chase, Leavitt & Co., and in 1885 entered the ship brokerage business with C. O. Haskell under the firm name of Hall & Haskell.

With the decline of Portland ship-ping, Mr. Hall transferred to insurance. He was attorney for the Portland Marine Underwriters for many years and later entered the general fire and marine insurance business with Ralph S. Norton, under the firm name of Norton & Hall, his brother-in-law, Charles S. Webster, afterwards entered the firm and the business conducted as Norton, Hall & Webster.

For a long period Mr. Hall had been interested in the Portland Marine Society, which he served as treasurer in position he held at the time of death. In June, 1927, Gov. Ralph Brewster named him a member Board of Harbor Commissioners Portland.

He was especially interested in music throughout his life and in earlier years was a member of local choirs, directing one of these. He was one of the first to become identified with the Portland branch of the Maine Music Festival, singing in the chorus throughout the 25 years of its history. He was also a charter member of the Portland Men's Singing Club. He was a member of the First Baptist Church 30 years, later transferring his affiliation to the State Street Congregational Church, of which he was a deacon.

A Republican in politics, Mr. Hall rarely sought public office, but served on the Portland School Board for a time.

He was a member of Ancient Land-mark Lodge of Masons, of Unity Lodge, IOOF, of the Portland Club, and of the former Portland Athletic Club many years. He had served as a director of the Casco Bank & Trust Company since its organization.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Clara Webster Hall; two sons, Major Vernon W. Hall, U. S. A., instructor for the Maine National Guard, and Alfred E. B. Hall of Saco; a grandson, James Hall, a student at the University of Alabama; a granddaughter, Priscilla, of Saco.

Albert Bradish Hall, 83, veteran fire insurance man, and long identified with Portland musical interests, died at 8 a. m. today at his home, 51 Thomas Street, after an illness of three days. He was taken ill at his office, 54 Exchange Street, Monday morning, and upon being taken

PASSAGES

Each day the Press Herald selects one obituary and seeks to learn more about the life of an ordinary person who has lived and worked in Southern Maine. We look for a person who

Mr. Hall was a special agent in the insurance industry from 1922 to 1941 in Boston, Philadelphia, Hartford, Conn., and Maine. He worked at a South Portland shipyard from 1941 to 1945. He then became a salesman for Eastern Fire Equipment Co., retiring in 1971.

Hall said that during one of his father's memorable trips on business, he decided to drive across a lake in the dead of winter to get from one town to another. "It was either that or drive all the way around," his son said. "He told us he almost didn't make it."

The family moved to Yarmouth in 1937, and Hall said his father was well-known in town: "I couldn't go anyplace without someone asking, 'How is your dad?'"

Mr. Hall was a six-year member of the Yarmouth School Board, a trustee of the Merrill Memorial Library, member and deacon of the First Parish Congregational Church, Yarmouth, and treasurer of the Central Men's Club. He was a life member of the Anderson Mayberry Post VFW of Yarmouth, and the Warren Lodge of Masons of East Machias.

His wife of 55 years, Ruth (Van Wart) Hall, and a daughter, Elizabeth Hall Miller, died previously.

Surviving are another son, William A. of Yarmouth; a sister, Rebecca Higgins of Machias; nine grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

A funeral will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at the First Parish Congregational Church, with the Rev. Joseph

Elmo G. Hall

psychologist for Portland schools

FALMOUTH — Elmo G. Hall of Falmouth, a longtime psychologist and guidance director in the Portland schools, died Sept. 15 following an illness. He was 74.

Over the years, Mr. Hall was also a consultant for area hospitals, a psychologist with a private practice and a part-time lobsterman who loved the ocean and the outdoors. But his work in the Portland schools, said his wife, Katherine, was most important to him.

PASSAGES

Each day the newspaper selects one obituary and seeks to learn more about the life of a person who has lived and worked in Maine. We look for a person who has made a mark on the community or the person's family and circle of friends in small but lasting ways.

"He was very smart, very compassionate, very caring," she said. "He loved his job, and he loved the kids."

Mr. Hall was born in Winthrop, the son of Earle and Dorothea Godfrey Hall, and graduated from Mexico High School, the former Ricker Junior College in Houlton and the University of Maine.

He began his career as a guidance counselor and psychologist in Brewer. He ran an experimental guidance program in Newport/Corinna and worked as a training manager for Oxford Paper Co. before moving to Portland in 1959.

He remained the psychologist and guidance director for the Portland School Department for almost 30 years, retiring about 10 years ago.

"He was the psychologist for all the Portland schools, so he saw all the problems at one time or another," said his wife. "He was very easy-going, and the kids liked him. He did his job, and he was good at it, if I do say so."

Elmo Hall

talked about his work at home.

"He left it behind when he came home, and picked it up the next day," she said. "Otherwise he would go off his rocker."

Mr. Hall also worked as a consultant at Maine Medical Center and the former Osteopathic Hospital. He frequently did evaluations for Social Security and rehabilitation benefits at the Health and Welfare (now Health and Human Services) Department.

Mr. Hall also had a private practice at night, seeing both adults and young people in an office at home, said his wife, who worked for him in the office.

Along with his work, she said, her husband always found time for the outdoors. For years the couple and their son, James, a game biologist in Machias, all hunted and fished together.

For over 40 years, the family spent their summers at a home in Milbridge they called "the farm." Her husband had a big garden there, she said, and took to lobstering to help put James through college.

"He loved the ocean," she said. "We'd all go out on the boat, and we all had our job."

In the winter, the couple, who celebrated their 52nd anniversary two weeks ago, also snowmobiled and ice-fished together.

"We kept busy when we could," she said. "It was a full life."

Mr. Hall was a veteran of the Army Air Corps, serving as a fighter pilot in Europe during World War II. He was a member of the American Legion, the St. Andrews Society of Maine and the Masons.

Surviving, besides his wife and son, are a sister, Ardra Ray of Houston, and two grandchildren.

Memorial services will be held at 10 a.m. Tuesday in Chapel A at Jones, Rich and Hutchins Funeral Home. Interment will be in the Maine Veteran's Memorial Cemetery in Augusta.
