Of

Herbert M. W. Haven, 63, confectioner, naturalist, and one of the founders of the Maine Mineralogical Society, died suddenly Saturday afternoon at his residence, 502 Forest Avenue.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at 749 Congress Street. Interment will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

Surviving is his widow, Mrs. Florence E. Haven.

He was born in Boston, the son of the late George H. and Minnie Skillings Haven, and came to Portland 34 years ago to establish Haven's Candy Kitchen.

He was the descendant of Richard Haven, who migrated from England to Lynn, Mass., in 1644.

With eight others, Haven was the founder of the Maine Mineralogical Society and was its first secretary and its second president.

He was a charter member of the American Society of Mammalogists; a member of the American Ornithologists Union; American Society of Herpetology & Ichthyology; Rocks and Minerals Association; Portland Museum of Natural History, Maine Astronomical Society; American Museum of Natural History, and others.

A former game warden, he was also a member of the American Forestry Association and the Josselyn Botanical Society of Maine.

He was an artilleryman in World War I, a member of the American Legion, the 40 & 8, Odd Fellows, Masons, and the Associated Retail Confectioners of the United States.

An authority on many phases of Maine's natural history, and a diversified lecturer, Haven owned an extensive mineralogical collection.

WINTHROP — Barney Morton (Mort) Havey, 83, retired executive director of the Associated Industries of Maine, died Saturday at his Forest Avenue home here.

As the chief spokesman for the Associated Industries of Maine, and its lobbyist, Mr. Havey was highly regarded by members of the Legislature.

He retired as AIM executive director in 1971 after 28 years in that post.

Mr. Havey was a managing editor of the Bangor Daily Commercial for several years. He also had been employed by the Portland Press Herald, the Associated Press, and Bangor radio station WABI where he was the station manager for four years.

He was secretary to former Gov. William Tudor Gardiner. When Gov. Gardiner left office in 1933, Mr.

Havey was assigned to organize the Civilian Conservation Corps in Maine. One of his chief duties was to assure mothers that the CCC was not a trick to get their sons into the military service.

A Navy veteran of World War I, he was a former member of the American Legion, a member of the Masons, and very active in St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Augusta.

He was born at Sullivan, son of Harvard and Martha Moore Havey, and attended Colby College.

Surviving are two sons, William M. of Hallowell, and Jack M. of Winthrop; a brother, Dwight Havey of Sullivan; eight grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Memorial services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday from St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Augusta.
