FARMINGTON — Earl R. "Buster" Hawkins, 83, Franklin County sheriff for many years, died Friday at Franklin Memorial Hospital, where he had been a patient for a week.

He was born in North Jay, a son of Joseph and Lucy Tregembo Hawkins, and attended schools there. He graduated from Wilton Academy.

He married Ethel Harlow in Jay on Nov. 24, 1926.

Mr. Hawkins was employed by Jay Granite Quarry for many years. He moved to North Jay from here in August 1940.

He was sheriff of Franklin County for 17 years, from 1941, when he was appointed by Gov. Sumner Sewall, and for succeeding elected terms until 1959. He was a selectman here, and was fire chief at North Jay for 10 years.

For more than 50 years, he was a member of Franklin Lodge, Knights of Pythias.

He was a member of the Grange for 50 years and a member of the Farmington Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star for 40 years.

He served two terms in the Maine Legislature. For 10 years, he was Franklin County Superior Court Clerk.

He was a member and past deacon of Old South Congregational Church of Farmington.

Mr. Hawkens joined the Wilton Masonic Lodge in 1923 and received a 60-year membership star.

He was a member of the Franklin Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, Pilgrim Commandery, Jephthah Council, and was past president of the Franklin County Shrine Club.

He was appointed to serve as aide in 1966 by potentate Richard B. Olfene, who became elected imperial potentate of Kora Temple Shrine in Lewiston. He was potentate each year since that appointment, except one year.

He was appointed a life honorary potentate's aide, the first time this type of honor had been bestowed.

Surviving are his wife, Ethel Hawkens of Farmington, and a brother, Basil Hawkens of Hastings, Mich.

A funeral will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at Old South Congregational Church. The Rev. Richard Waddell Jr. will officiate.

WESTBROOK — Amos A. Hawkes, 80, of Hardy Road died yesterday at a local hospital after being stricken at a Westbrook bowling alley.

He was born at Windham, a son of George and Frances Rogers Hawkes, moving here more than 60 years ago.

He graduated from Westbrook High School in 1923, and later from the former Gorham Normal School, Rhode Island College of Education, and took summer courses at Bates College for several years.

Mr. Hawkes taught in the grade schools of Compton, N.H..

later in Rockport (Mass.) High School, and headed the science department of Pawtucket (R.I.) High School. He taught physics and coached both tennis and swimming for more than 20 years at Deering High School.

During World War II he headed the Farm-Labor Bureau for several years.

He was a member of the Masons, the Grange, Pomona, state and national Grange, the Maine State Retired Teachers' Association and was active in the Prides Corner Bowling League.

He is survived by his wife, Leonora Marshall Hawkes, and a son, Alerton H., both of Westbrook; a granddaughter; and a great-grandson.

Funeral services will be at 11 a.m. Monday at the Prides Corner Congregational Church. Burial will be in Highland Lake Cemetery.

WINDHAM - Frank B. Hawkes, 86, of Windham Center Road, died unexpectedly, Sept. 24, 2004

Born in Westbrook on Dec. 5, 1917, he was the son of Alley E. and Dorothy P. (Hall) Hawkes. Frank attended local schools graduating from Windham High School, Class of 1935.

Following school, Frank worked on the family farm with his dad and during the off-season, worked in the woods logging. At the onset of World War II, he went to work at the former Thomas Laughlin Company, of Portland, a local defense contractor.

In 1943, He enlisted in the U.S. Army Air Corp, serving as a flight engineer with a B-24 bomber crew; he was also trained as an aerial gunner and an aircraft mechanic. He attended the Western State Teachers College, in Bowling Green, Ky., for a year, as part of his military training. All of his life, Frank was proud of his military experience. Once the war ended, Frank returned to the family farm, again working with his father, Alley and brother, Richard, growing vegetables and selling them at the Hawkes Family Farm Stand, on Roosevelt Trail in Windham. The family business has operated continuously since 1932.

Aside from time spent serving in the military, along with the help of family and friends, Frank worked the family business up to the day he died.

Custodian for the Windham High School was another of Frank's many tasks; he did this from 1964 until 1981, retiring because of ill health.

On Sept. 25, 1948, he married the former Florence E. Pride; the couple has been together for 56 years, having raised a family of three sons and two daughters.

He was a life member and past master of the Presumpscot Lodge of Masons, a member of the Farm Bureau and the Maine Vegetable Growers Association. He served on the Windham Town Budget Committee for several years as well as the committee to study zoning. He was a member of the Windham Historical Society and the past president of the Smith Cemetery Association.

Frank loved the Town of Windham, its people, the farming his family was involved with and all of his loyal customers over several generations.

Two sisters, Barbara Secord and Charlotte Corrigan along with two brothers, Willard Hawkes and Richard Hawkes have predeceased him.

Surviving are his wife, Florence E. Hawkes of Windham; three sons, Dennis Hawkes and his wife, Sharon, James Hawkes, and Robert Hawkes all of Windham; two daughters, Dianne Loring and her husband, Timothy and Mary Vandenburg and her husband, George, all of Windham; a brother, Stanley Hawkes of Lancaster, Calif.; two sisters, Katherine Williams of Windham and Pricilla Mathias and her husband, Dr. Eugene Mathias, of Tulare, Calif.; a sister-in-law, June Hawkes of Windham; nine grandchildren; six great-grandchildren and many cousins, nieces and nephews.

Frank M. Hawkes

Funeral services for Frank M. Hawkes, 71, former County Commissioner, deputy sheriff, town officer in Raymond and New Gloucester and also postmaster, will be held at 2 p. m., Monday, Standard Time, at Intervale, with interment at New Gloucester.

Mr. Hawkes died Saturday in a Portland hospital. Born at Windham, he was educated in the town schools and removed to North Raymond when a young man. He was appointed postmaster at a station now known as Noraco. Subsequently he was postmaster at Intervale, where he owned a large farm.

His brief term as County Commissioner ended when the Democrats elected all their candidates in the county in 1910, and he returned to his grocery and grain store at New Gloucester which he carried on in connection with his farm for a number of years. Later he was appointed a deputy sheriff and court crier, serving prior to his nomination and election as County Commissioner in 1918. When he retired from the board in 1925 he was again appointed a deputy sheriff. He worked as a constable and collector the past few years.

Mr. Hawkes was a 32nd degree Mason and a member of the Shrine. He is survived by his second wife, Mrs. Gertrude Horne Hawkes; three sons, Merton F., of this City, Lester A., and Leon S., of Kineo; two daughters, Mrs. Angie E. True and Mrs. George E. Ayer of New Gloucester, and a brother, Lewis E., of Unity.

GRAY — George E. Hawkes, 85, former tax collector and president of the New England Milk Producers Association, died at his home here today after two years of failing health.

A filling station proprietor and farmer here for many years, he headed the Milk Producers Association for five years. Widely known as an amateur landscape photographer and poet, he had served this community as tax collector and was treasurer of the Congregational Church. He was a member of Cumberland Lodge, AF&AM, Pennell Institute Alumni Association, the Horticultural Society and the Appalachian Club, both of Lynn, Mass.

He was one of the organizers of the Maine Retail Gasoline Dealers' Association.

He was born at North Yarmouth, Jan. 28, 1869, the son of Ebenezer and Ellen Higgins Hawkes. He was graduated from Pennell Institute, Gray, and lived in Lynn, Mass., for several years where he was head clerk in a clothing firm.

He came to Gray in 1909 when he married Effie Foss of Parsonsfield. Mrs. Hawkes died Sept. 25, 1937.

He is survived by a son, Owen, and a daughter, Mrs. Marion Barton, both of Gray, and by several nephews and nieces.

Funeral services will be held in the Wilson funeral home at 2 p. m. Sunday. The Rev. Cornelius E. Clark, DD, Portland, will officiate. Interment will be in the Gray Cemetery.

Harold L. Hawkes 11-22-41

A few hours after he had decided to visit a doctor in regard to his ill health rather than to attend the funeral of a business associate, Harold L. Hawkes, 59, fell dead in the bathroom of his home, 247 Pleasant Avenue, Saturday afternoon.

Hawkes, a painter in the employ of the Cumberland County Power & Light Company, was shaving in preparation for his visit to the doctor's when he was stricken with a heart attack which caused his death, members of his family said.

He had been ill with a cold for the past few days, which caused him to postpone plans to attend the Saturday afternoon funeral of Ernest E. Moulton, division superintendent of the power concern.

Hawkes was a native of Chelsea, Mass., leaving there in childhood to reside first in Hallowell and then Concord, N. H., before coming to Portland about 42 years ago. For many years he was manager of the Novelty Rug Company here, leaving that work to enter the employ of the power company 21 years ago.

He was twice married, his first wife, Daisy E. Dolley died in 1926. He is survived by his second wife, the former Leona Hay Larrabee, whom he married in 1927; two daughter, Florence R. Hawkes of New York City and Mrs. Harry K. Bustin of Portland; a son, Harold M. Hawkes of Braintree, Mass.; two sisters, Mrs. Lorin Crosman and Mrs. Lucy Jones of Maplewood, N. J.; two brothers, Howard C. and Robert E. Hawkes of Portland; and two grandchildren, Dorothy E. and Jean A. Bustin of Portland.

He was deacon and clerk of the Central Square Baptist Church and a member of Cornerstone Lodge of Masons.

GORHAM — Lincoln F. "Linc" Hawkes, 57, husband of Rebecca Jane Dole Hawkes, of Gorham and Sebago Lake, died unexpectedly Friday at a Portland hospital. He was former superintendent of Gorham Public Works.

He was born in Gorham, son of Lincoln and Gertrude Irish Hawkes. He was a graduate of Gorham High School and served four years with the Marine Corps where he graduated from heavy equipment school.

From 1957 until 1972, he established and operated a general contracting business and also was a land developer. From 1972 until 1983 he served as superintendent of the Public Works Department for the Town of Gorham.

He was a 32nd degree Mason and a past master of the Masons, a member of the IOOF, the Gorham School Board, the Eastern Cemetery Association and the U.S. Trotting Association. He served as a cooperator with Gorham Savings Bank.

He is survived by his wife of Sebago Lake; two sons, Lincoln B. of Texas and Richard W. of Cumberland; three brothers, Raymond and Kenneth, both of Gorham, and Robert of Boxford, Mass.; two sisters, Frances Hale of Boothbay Harbor and Mary Stone of Lynn, Mass.; and two granddaughters.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Tuesday at the First Parish Congregational Church, School Street, Gorham. Interment will be in Eastern Cemetery with the Rev. Jack Perkins officiating.

Melvin Everett Hawkes

KENNEBUNK -- Melvin Everett Hawkes died on March 4, 2007, at the Kennebunk Nursing Home of Colon Cancer. He was born on Dec. 29, 1920, in Hallowell. He was the son of Maude Louise Kemp and Edward Howe Hawkes. He graduated from Deering High School in 1939. He was a Staff Sergeant during WWII. He served with the Blue Devils in the 88th Division and was in North Africa, Anzio Beach and Monte Cassino, where was seriously wounded. He received a Purple Heart with two Oak Clusters, the Bronze Star for Meritorious Service, the Combat Infantry Badge, and the ETO, European Theater of Operations, with three battle stars.

He graduated from the National Cleaning and Dyeing Institute, in Silver Springs, Md., in 1946. He was the manager of E.L. Watkins Cleaning Plant on Forest Avenue in Portland for 20 years. He then decided to further his education and graduated from Gorham State Teacher's College with a BS in Education in 1962. He earned his Master's Degree from Gorham in 1969. He taught at the Shaw Junior High School in Gorham for 17 years.

Melvin was a member of the National Education Association; the Maine Teacher's Association; he was a 32nd Degree Mason; a member of the Kora Temple Shrine; a former member of Central Square Baptist Church; Past Vice President of Toastmaster's Club; Past President of Gorham Teacher's Association, and a member of the Retired Teacher's Association.

Mel also enjoyed his motorcycle and snowmobile. He belonged to the Tea Boilers snowmobile club. The members went for short rides, stopped and boiled water for tea, and came home, thus, the name Tea Boiler's Club.

His wife, Harriet F. Mitchell Hawkes, predeceased him in 1990. He is survived by three daughters, Janet Murphy and her husband Stanley of Standish, his daughter Ann Stepp and her husband James of South Casco, and his daughter Gloria James and her husband William of Fremont, N.H. He is also survived by six grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

A private graveside service will be held at Brooklawn Cemetery at a later date.

ST. GEORGE — A. Kempster "Kemp" Hawkings, 87, a St. George selectman for for more than 20 years, died Thursday at his Wiley's Corner home after a long illness. He was the husband of Ena Page Hawkings.

A native of St. George, he was born on July 11, 1896, the son of John Henry and Annie Kempster Hawkings.

Kemp was a 50-year member and past noble grand of the Tenants Harbor Odd Fellows Lodge, and a member of the Rebekahs. He was a member and past master of Eureka Lodge of Masons and a past patron of Naomi Chapter, OES, Tenants Harbor.

Mr. Hawkings was well known as "The Chowder Maker" for the Masons' Second Saturday fish chowder suppers.

Mr. Hawkings served his community as a selectman for over 20 years.

Besides his widow of St. George, Mr. Hawkings is survived by two sons, Alvin K. Jr. of St. George and John P. Hawkings of Rockland; three daughters, Mrs. Loren (Ruth) Harvey, Rockland, Mrs. Frank (Patricia) Laxton of Lancaster, Pa., and Mrs. Richard (Carol) Paulsen, St. George; one brother, Julian Hawkings, St. George; 13 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

A funeral will be held Monday, 2 p.m. at the First Baptist Church at Wiley's Corner, with the Rev. Charles Hale officiating. Interment will be at the North Parish Cemetery, St. George.

A Masonic service will be conducted by members of Eureka Lodge at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the Davis Funeral Home, WARREN F. HAWLEY, JR.

Warren F. Hawley, Jr., 40, of Day's Ferry, formerly of Bath, died Monday at the Maine Medical Center, Portland, where he had been a patient for the past two weeks.

Born in Bath, March 9, 1918, he was a son of Warren and Florence Andrews Hawley.

Mr. Hawley was graduated from Morse High school in 1936 and attended Bowdoin College. He entered the employ of the Bath Iron Works Corp. in 1939 as a member of the Outfitting Department and in 1950 transferred to the drafting room.

He was a member of the Bath Lodge of Elks, Solar Lodge Masons, B. I. W. Draftsmen's Association, Young Republican club, Day's Ferry Community club and a former member of the Colonial club. A member of Grace Episcopal church, Mr. Hawley was a former director of the church choir.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Esther Drummond Hawley; his mother, Mrs. Florence Hawley of Bath, and one brother, Sumner A. Hawley of New Hampton, N. H.

Holy Eucharist will be conducted at 10 a. m. Thursday at Grace Episcopal church and funeral services will be conducted at the church at 2 p. m., Thursday.

Friends may visit at the Arthur F. Mayo & Son funeral residence until 12 noon, Thursday.

Ex-Westbrook Mayor Harry F. G. Hay Dies

WESTBROOK—Harry F. G. Hay, 90, former mayor of Westbrook, died today in a Sarasota, Fla., hospital after a brief illness. He had made his home in Sarasota with a daughter, Miss Cora Hay, for the past 15 years.

Mr. Hay was a funeral director for more than 30 years and was the only survivor of the first group of Maine funeral directors licensed in 1904. He observed the changes in the profession from the early days of horse drawn vehicle and stonefront "undertaking parlor" to the present day methods. He served for several years as chairman of the State Board of Embalming Examiners.

Mr. Hay was born June 6, 1877, in Dartmouth, N. S., son of William and Mary Reid Hay. After high school, he taught school for a time at St. Margaret's Bay. In 1900 he moved to Portland where he worked in a grocery store. In 1903 he moved to Westbrook to operate the funeral business.

ACTIVE IN THE REORGANIZATION of Westbrook Trust Company in 1933, he became its president a few years later and served in that capacity until 1952 when he became chairman of the board. He served until 1958 when he became a year-round resident of Sarasota.

Mr. Hay was Westbrook's youngest mayor. He was elected first in 1909 when he was 32 years old and was re-elected the next year.

He was charter president of the Westbrook Rotary Club and was proud of his 39 year's perfect attendance record which wife, the former Grace Shattford, died. In 1905 he married the former Marion Stimson of Portland who died in 1938.

Surviving besides his daughter are another daughter, Mrs. Fenwick L. Leavitt, and a son, John W. Hay, both of Westbrook. Another son, Dr. Walter F. W. Hay, died in 1944. Also surviving are 10 grandchildren, 14 greatgrandchildren, several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held in the Sarasota Congregational Church of which he was a founder. Memorial services in Westbrook will be announced later.

WESTBROOK- John Westbrook Hay, 93, of Main Street, Westbrook died Monday, April 1, 2003, at St. Joseph's Manor, Portland. He was born Feb. 15, 1910, in Westbrook, a son of Harry F. G. and Marion (Stimson) Hay, and lived there all but one year of his life. He is survived by a son, Peter D. Hay of South Portland; three daughters, Deborah H. Bird of Westbrook, Dorcas H. Hurd of Westminster, Mass., and Tabitha H. Fournier of Lancaster, Pa.; 11 grandchildren; 11 great-grandchildren; and a sister, Virginia Hay Leavitt of Westbrook. Effie (Knowlton) Hay, his wife of 69 years, died in December 2001. Mr. Hay was graduated from Westbrook High School in 1928, Bowdoin College in 1932, and Cincinnati School of Embalming in 1933, the same year that he bought Hay Funeral Home from his father, who had started the business in 1903. In 2001, Blais Funeral Home acquired the business, at which time it became Blais & Hay Funeral Home. For nearly 80 years, Mr. Hay was a member of Westbrook-Warren Congregational Church, where he served as a deacon (later deacon emeritus), Sunday School teacher, and member of various boards. He was a member of the Westbrook-Gorham Rotary Club, where he had 60 years of perfect attendance. He served as a trustee of the Walker Memorial Library for 45 years and as a corporator of Maine Medical Center for many years. He was treasurer of the Cumberland County chapter of National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis (March of Dimes) and the Maine Funeral Directors Association. Mr. Hay was state chairman of Mortuary Practice for Maine Civil Defense for many years and a director of the Greater Portland United Way. He served on the boards of Maine Savings Bank and Westbrook Trust Company and succeeding banks. He was past master of Temple Lodge of Masons and member of the Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, and Westbrook Historical Society. In 1999, Mr. and Mrs. Hay were recognized with the first honorary membership into the Westbrook Chamber of Commerce for their 'outstanding service and dedication to the people of Westbrook.' Mr. Hay was very proud of his blood donations to the American Red Cross (17 gallons) at a time when people had to retire from donating at age 65. He enjoyed gardening and was a Civil War enthusiast. There will be no visiting hours. A memorial service will be held at 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, April 12, at Westbrook-Warren Congregational Church. Arrangements are by Blais and Hay Funeral Home, 35 Church Street, Westbrook. In lieu of flowers, donations may be sent to: Walker

Roger C. Hay, 51, of Winslow Road, Falmouth Foreside, former commodore of the Portland Yacht Club and for many years identified with Portland business, died today in a local hospital, where he had been a patient two weeks.

Born in Portland June 26, 1892, son of Charles M. and Elizabeth Campbell Hay, Mr. Hay was graduated from Portland High School and Worcester Polytechnic Institute. He was a member of the Portland Naval Reserve and served in the US Navy in World War One.

Interested in boating, he was for many years a member of the Portland Yacht Club, and in addition to serving as its commodore in former years he had been its secretary the past four years.

From 1914 to 1921 he was clerk of the Charles M. Hay Paint Company, and the next three years its vice president. He was vice president of the King & Dexter Company from 1924 to about 1934, having charge of its paint department. He then was proprietor of the Hay Paint Company, afterwards selling the business to the Modene Paint Company and managing the business at its Forest Avenue store up to the present time.

He was a member of Ancient Landmark Lodge, AF&AM, and of Phi Gamma Beta Fraternity, and attended the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Falmouth Foreside.

In 1930 he married Miss E. Doris Rollins of this City, who survives him with three children, Virginia Sally, Charles Henry and John Campbell; all of Falmouth Foreside; and his mother.

Private funeral services will be held at 1.30 p. m. Wednesday at 749 Congress Street.

Dr. Walter F. W. Hay, 47, of 149 Brighton Avenue, surgeon, obstetrician and gynecologist here the past 17 years, died suddenly of coronary thrombosis in his office at 131 State Street Wednesday evening.

He was born at Tangier, N. S., Feb. 1, 1897, son of Ex-Mayor Harry F. G. Hay of Westbrook and the late Grace Shatford Hay, and came to Portland with his parents in 1900. He was educated in the Portland and Westbrook schools. After graduation from Westbrook High School in 1916, he entered Bowdoin College but his course there was interrupted by the United States' entering World War I. After serving overseas with the Red Cross Ambulance Service, he returned to Bowdoin and was graduated with the Class of 1920 and then studied at Harvard Medical School, being graduated there in 1922.

He interned at the Boston City Hospital two years and at the Boston Lying In Hospital a year, served on the surgical staff of the former hospital and was with the pathological departments of that hospital, Harvard Medical School, Peter Bent Brigham Hospital and the Massachusetts General Hospital before beginning practice here.

Dr. Hay was a member of the Portland Medical Club, the Cumberland County and Maine Medical Associations, the New England Society of Surgeons and the New England Society of Obstetricians and Gynecologists and in 1931 was elected a Fellow of the American College of Physicians and Surgeons. He was on the staffs of the Maine General and Children's Hospitals here and was visiting surgeon at Mercy Hospital and the Maine Eye and Ear Infirmary. He also was a member of the Westbrook Congregational Church, Temple Lodge, F&AM, at Westbrook, and Zeta Psi Fraternity.

Surviving besides his father are his widow, Mrs. Alice White Hay; four sons, MT/Sgt. Walter F. G. Hay, Jr., USMC, now stationed at Gulfport, Miss., after service in the Pacific, Pvt. R. Channing, recent star athlete at Deering High School who left Wednesday morning to return to Camp Lejeune, N. C., where he is serving with the Marine Corps, and John A. and H. Graham Hay, pupils at Deering High and Lincoln Junior High Schools, respectively; two sisters, Miss Cora G. Hay, Westbrook, and Mrs. Fenwick L. Leavitt, Barre, Vt.; a brother, John W. Hay, West-

Walter G. Hay, 70, a funeral director in Portland since 1900 and prominent in the fraternal civic life of Portland, died in a local hospital Sunday after a short illness. He had been a former president of Opportunity Farm, served as an alderman and on the Common Council under the old form of city government and was the Republican candidate for mayor in 1911. He was a past president of the Maine Funeral Directors' Association and an officer on the Board of Control for National Selected Morticians.

Mr. Hay was born at Tangier, N. S., March 25, 1872, son of Mary Reid and William Hay, and was educated at Pictou Academy, N. S., Dartmouth College and Boston University. He worked for a time with a wholesale grocery firm in Boston after completing his education, then traveled for a firm which manufactured surgical instruments. He came to Portland in 1899 and entered the funeral directing business Sept. 1, 1900, at Woodfords Corner under the name of Walter G. Hay & Co. Later he formed a partnership with the late Everett Webb and they were in business under the firm name of Hay & Webb at the site now occupied by the Trelawny Building on Congress Street. After Mr. Webb's death Mr. Hay formed a partnership with the late Barrak C. Peabody and they were in business together nearly 25 years under the name of Hay & Peabody, for a time in the Baxter Block, later at 756 Congress Street. Shortly after Mr. Peabody's death in 1929, Lloyd G. Hay became associated with his father in the business, which has

EN ROUTE to a local hospital in an ambulance, William B. Hay, 73, prominent retired advertising man, died of heart disease shortly before noon today. Mr. Hay made his home at the Hotel Eastland.

As advertising and sales manager of the A. S. Hinds Company 20 years, Mr. Hay was largely responsible for that company's growth from a local organization to an enterprise selling an internationally known product.

Mr. Hay also was a former advertising manager of the E. T. Burrowes

Company and at one time was assistant advertising manager of the old Portland Daily Press.

Born here, April 12, 1861, son of the late Henry H. Hay, prominent druggist, and Eleanor Seavey Hay, Mr. Hay attended Portland High School, and began his business life in his father's drugstore.

Except for brief business ventures in Minneapolis, Minn., Colorado Springs, Col., California and in Providence, R. I., Mr. Hay lived in Portland all his life. After the A. S. Hinds Company was sold to Lehn & Fink, New York, Mr. Hay established a sales agency in this City.

Mr. Hay was a 32nd degree Mason, a former member of the Kiwanis Club, and in recent years was particularly active in charitable work in this City. Mr. Hay lived at the Hotel Eastland Winters, and maintained a summer home at Shore Acres, Cape Elizabeth.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Lola Sherman Hay, he leaves two brothers, Edward A. Hay, Portland druggist, and the Rev. Henry Clinton Hay of Boston, and one sister, Miss Eleanor Hay of California. His only son, Sherman Hay, died several years ago, and a brother, Charles M. Hay, died in December, 1932.
