WINDHAM - Elmer "Brud" Hersey, 71, a longtime front-end alignment specialist of Pine Drive in East Windham, died Sunday at a Portland hospital after a long illness.

Mr. Hersey began his career as a mechanic at Ray Jillson's garage at Allen's Corner in Portland.

"Ray taught him about everything he knew about alignments," said his wife, Phyllis Eliason Hersey.

PASSAGES

has made a mark on the community or the person's family and circle of friends in small but lasting ways.

"He was considered one of the best alignment men around," said Richard Waltz Sr., a longtime friend.

"He didn't mind taking a little bit of time out of his day to help someone else out," said Gene Fecteau, who worked with Mr. Hersey at Henley-Kimball when it was on Marginal Way. "He did all the aligning and balancing for us - Dodges, Mercedes Benzes, MGs, Triumphs. People liked him and trusted him."

Mr. Hersey retired from Cedric Moore Tire Co. on Forest Avenue.

The Herseys lived all of their 47 years of marriage in the same house on Pine Drive. Mr. Hersey purchased the house when he was 16, using money he earned from working at a fish market on the Portland waterfront. Through the years, he added several rooms and a garage.

Born in Portland, he was a son of Clinton and Maude Daniels Hersey. He graduated in 1938 from Portland High School and served in the Navy during World War II as a shipfitter in California.

He was a member of Warren Phillips Masonic Lodge, Westbrook, the American Legion in Gray and the Highland Lake Association.

A stepson, Stephen R. Bennett, died in 1983.

Survivors include his wife, Phyllis Eliason Hersey of East Windham; a sister, Madeline Weston of Scarborough, a grandson and a great-granddaughter.

A graveside service will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at Brooklawn Memorial Park, Portland. Arrangements are by Hay & Peabody, Portland.

HOULTON, May 6. (AP)—Former U. S. Rep. Ira G. Hersey, 85, who represented Maine's old Fourth District in the U. S. House of Representatives 12 years, died today in Washington. He was widely known for his speech making in a day when oratory flourished in politics.

Farmers For Themselves

Although he represented a district predominantly agricultural, Uncle Ira was only lukewarm to such farm aid measures as the McNary-Haugen Act adopted in the Coolidge Administration. He told his confreres that Aroostook farmers had to settle their own problems and the rest of the Nation's farmers must do the same.

Born at Hodgdon, March 31, 1858, Hersey lived at Linneus until he was 16, then moved to Houlton, where he was graduated from Ricker Classical Institute (then Houlton Academy.)

Like many a fledgling attorney, Hersey taught school while reading law and was admitted to the bar in 1880. Five years later he married Miss Annie Dillen of Mars Hill. They celebrated their golden wedding in 1935. Mrs. Hersey died in May, 1939.

Politically, Hersey started out in the Prohibition Party, and was its defeated gubernatorial candidate in 1894. Shortly afterward he became a Republican.

After a term in the Maine House, 1909-11, Hersey went to the State Senate for two terms, serving as President in 1915-16.

That year he sought, unsuccessfully, his party's U. S. Senate nomination. His opponent, Frederick Hale, subsequently was elected.

On Judiciary Committee

A few months later a Fourth District convention gave him a U. S. Representative nomination, and he was elected. For eight of his 12 years on Capitol Hill, Hersey was a member of the important House Judiciary Committee.

In 1928 Hersey lost renomination to Donald F. Snow, Bangor, elected to become Maine's last representative from the Fourth District, which the state lost in the 1930 re-districting.

For seven years thereafter, Hersey remained in political eclipse, but at the age of 76 sought and won the Aroostook County Probate judgeship.

He retired last Fall after serving nine years as probate judge and had been making his home with his niece, Mrs. Frederick L. Pearce, at whose home he died.

Funeral services and interment will be at Houlton.
