Carl A. Libby

9/24/99

retired mill fabricator, ardent outdoorsman

FREEPORT — Carl A. Libby, 86, died Wednesday surrounded by family at his home on Grant Road.

He was born in Auburn, a son of Stephen W. and Marcia Mcquire Libby, and attended Pownal schools and North Yarmouth Academy.

On April 26, 1936, he married the former Gladys Keith of Pownal. They remained in the small town for several years before moving to Freeport in 1950. But according to his daughter, Lucretia McDine, he "always felt that Pownal was his place."

She remembers that, no matter where he was coming from or where he was going, her father would drive through Pownal to get there. "When we were children, we thought Pownal was the center of the world," she said.

As a young man, Mr.

Libby worked at the Freeport Shoe Co. during the day and attended welding classes at night in South Portland. During World War II, he worked at the Todd-Bath Shipyard in South Portland.

For 26 years, he was a fabricator at Bancroft and Martin Rolling Mills in South Portland, where he manufactured beams that became part of overpasses across Route 95 in Maine and New Hampshire. He was often on site to assemble the beams in place, working on the bridge that spans the Piscataqua River between the Maine and New Hampshire border.

PASSAGES

Each day the newspaper selects one obituary and seeks to learn more about the life of a person who has lived and worked in Maine. We look for a person who has made a mark on the community or the person's family and circle of friends in small but lasting ways.

According to McDine, her father always wanted to be a lawyer but never had the opportunity to pursue this dream. Instead, she said, he would "hold court" when his children argued, asking them to present their sides. This so impressed his children and grandchildren that Mr. Libby's granddaughter is now studying to become a lawyer.

Mr. Libby delighted in music, singing, and playing the harmonica. He was an avid storyteller who enjoyed poetry and reading, all of which he loved sharing with his children and grandchildren. He was an ardent outdoorsman, hunter, fisherman and gardener who practiced conservation, his family said, by implementing organic gardening methods in the early 1950s.

He was known for his flowers, vegetables, and berries and sharing them with relatives and friends. He also enjoyed canning vegetables and freezing berries with his wife.

In 1979, he helped his daughter Lucretia and her family build their home on Lunt Road in Brunswick, and later he helped build the Pownal elementary school's playground.

Mr. Libby was a 49-year member of the Acacia Masonic Lodge in Durham and a 69-year member of the Westcusto International Order of Red Men in Pownal, where he was sachem of the lodge in both 1942 and 1992. He also was past district deputy great sachem. For the last several years, Mr. Libby rode on and helped construct the International Order of Red Men's Fourth of July float, often working beside the grandchildren of the men he joined the group with more than six decades ago.

Surviving are his wife of Freeport; a son, Stephen of Freeport; two daughters, Karla Milot of Leather Corner Post, Pa., and Mrs. Thomas (Lucretia) McDine of Virginia Beach, Va.; two sisters, Dorothy Kirkpatrick of Cape Elizabeth and Shirley Cass of Newhall, Calif.; three brothers, C. Sumner of Yarmouth, Ken of Freeport and Louville of Portland; and five grandchildren.

At Mr. Libby's request, there will be no formal services. Arrangements are by Lindquist Funeral Home, Yarmouth.
