Frank L. Bosquet, AGH administrator, said, "Mr. Moore's quarter century of service at the Augusta General Hospital, in charge of the many specialized phases of hospital maintenance and engineering, has been a real contribution to the overall care of this community's sick and injured.

"His cheerfulness and willingness will be remembered by all who knew him as 'Chief'."

Ralph G. Webber, for about 20 years a director of the hospital, said of Mr. Moore on his death, "He was always cheerful regardless of the difficulties of his job, which was an extremely important one to the hospital. I have never gone to the hospital but what I found Mr. Moore extremely cooperative and accommodating. He gave 25 years of faithful, pleasant service in a very trying job, and he did his job excellently."

Harold D. "Hal" Moore, an insurance agent and 66-year member of the Portland Yacht Club, died Tuesday at his home at 34 Codman St. He was 86.

PASSAGES

Each day the Press Herald selects one obituary and seeks to learn more about the life of a person who has lived and worked in Southern Maine. We look for a person who has made a mark on the community or the person's family and circle of friends in small but lasting ways.

Mr. Moore was the senior member and a former commodore of the PYC, which he joined in 1926.

"He knew every ledge and rock in Portland Harbor and the bay," said Jan Pedersen, a longtime friend.

Mr. Moore, his late brother Walter, and a few others came up with the idea for the overnight Monhegan Island yacht race in 1927 aboard Moore's power cruiser, the Carosa. The 120-nautical-mile race course was drawn up on

Harold D. Moore

Mr. Moore was well-known as a storyteller, and younger people called him "Uncle Hal." During his retirement, he was a compass adjuster for fishermen, commercial vessels and the Coast Guard, and he ate lunch nearly every day at the yacht club.

He was easily recognizable with his cigarette in one hand and his "modified" iced tea in the other, according to Susan Pedersen, another longtime friend.

"He was colorful, and he always had sage advice," said Norman Alterman, who is married to Karen Alterman of Scarsdale, N.Y., Mr. Moore's only surviving relative.

Born in Portland, a son of Walter DeC. Moore and Lillian B. Brown Moore, he grew up on Ashmont Street and later lived on Codman Street for many years. He was a 1924 graduate of Deering High School and also graduated from Silver Bay School in New York.

He was a charter member of the Marching and Chowder Society of Merchants Wharf and sat on the advisory board of the Salvation Army. He was a member of the Masons, the Kiwanis and the Woodfords Congregational Church and he enjoyed poetry.

A son, Lewis Stanley Moore, died in 1952, and a race in his honor is held each summer at PYC.
