E. Powers, 68, Oxford County register of deeds the past 22 years, was found dead in the bathroom of his Gothic Street home tonight.

Mr. Powers had complained of feeling ill to his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Grover of Westbrook, who were passing the week end with him.

Death was attributed to a heart ailment.

Born at Hanover, May 13, 1880, he was the son of Jennie Stearns Powers. He attended Hanover and Lewiston schools and Gould Academy, Bethel, and was graduated from Shaw's Business College, Portland.

He worked several years as clerk for the Andover Lumber Company before coming here to be employed by Paris Manufacturing Company as foreman of the sawmill.

Mr. Powers first became a candidate for register of deeds in 1918. He was defeated by one vote. He became a candidate again in 1926, was sworn in Jan. 1, 1927 and had been re-elected to the office since.

He married Mary E. York of Bethel whose death occurred in 1942. He since had continued to reside alone.

He was a member and past master of Paris Lodge of Masons, a member of Oxford, Royal Arch Masons, and Oxford Council.

Surviving are three children, Mrs. Lowaina A. Horr, South Paris, Mrs. Marjory L. Grover, Westbrook, Mrs. Helen A. Rowe, Lovell; and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 2 p. m. Tuesday from Deering Memorial Methodist Church. Entombment will be in Riverside Cemetery.

CHARLES 'ROLLIE' PRAHM JR.

ORRINGTON - Charles "Rollie" Prahm Jr., 58, beloved husband of Pauline "Polly" Prahm, died unexpectedly May 27, 2006, at a Bangor hospital. Rollie graduated from Brewer High School, Class of 1966 and entered the U.S. Army, November 1967. He served in the Signal Corp stationed in Germany. Rollie and his wife enjoyed spending time together at their camp and scouring the countryside for antiques. He was a member of the Ralph J. Pollard Lodge No. 217 AF & AM of Orrington, and had worked his way through the chairs to master of the lodge. At the time of his death, he was secretary. Rollie was a member of Scottish Rite Bodies Valley of Bangor, Maine Consistory 32 degree, the York Rite Bodies, and Anah Shriners. He truly enjoyed masonry. Surviving in addition to his wife, Polly; are his two daughters, Kelley Goodell and her husband, Mark and Alicia Tozier and her husband, Ron, all of Orrington; he was a devoted Papa to his grandsons, Ben Goodell, Anthony Harmon, Kyle Tozier and Nicholas Tozier, all of Orrington; mother-in-law, Ruth Miner of Orrington; sister-in-law, Evelyn Miner of Brewer; brother-in-law, Tom Miner and his wife, Jane, of Holden; two uncles and one aunt; several cousins; very special friends, Scott and Kellie Stanhope of Hampden, John McDonald, Gene and Elaine Foster, all of Eddington, Bruce and Candi Morrill, Doug and Kathy Sabine, all of Orrington. He was predeceased by a grandson, Gabriel Scott Tozier; and a sister-in-law, Jackie Miner. Relatives and friends are welcome to call 5-8 p.m. Wednesday, May 31, at Brookings-Smith, Clark-Piper Chapel, 55 South Main St., Brewer, where folks are invited to a Masonic memorial service 7:30 p.m. Wednesday conducted by the officers and members of the Ralph J. Pollard Lodge. Funeral services will be held 10 a.m. Thursday, June 1, at the funeral home with the Rev. Kathryn Smith, of EOCC, officiating. Private interment will be in Marston Cemetery, Orrington. The family invites relatives and friends to share conversation and refreshments at the Brookings-Smith, Reception Rooms, 55 South Main St., Brewer, after the service. Those wishing to remember Rollie in a special way may contribute in his memory to the Ralph J. Pollard Lodge, Building Fund, care of Charles Haskell, 24 Kent Dr., Orrington, ME 04474. # Charles D. Pratt, an institution on Matinicus Island

MATINICUS ISLAND — Charles D. Pratt, 77, died Feb. 6, 2000, at Maine Medical Center after a brief illness.

Friends say Mr. Pratt thought of himself as a Matinicus Islander first, then a craftsman and a lobsterman. He had a stocky build, a deeply resonant voice, and long white hair. He was a private man, but not a recluse. He always had a smile for his fellow islanders.

"He was very well-known for always stopping to talk to people," said Carole Esley of Rockland, who helped manage Mr. Pratt's personal affairs. "He was forever stopping to help, so he was outgoing, but there was always that reserve."

He was a son of Dana F. Pratt and Edna Wagner Pratt, and was a direct descendant of the original settlers of Matinicus Plantation.

PASSAGES

Each day the newspaper selects one obituary and seeks to learn more about the life of a person who has lived and worked in Maine. We look for a person who has made a mark on the community or the person's family and circle of friends in lasting ways.

poles. He always carried an alarm with him to remind him when it was time to go home and give his wife, who was ill, her medicine.

"One of the centers of his life was his wife, to make sure that she got the care she needed and the help she needed because she couldn't always take care of herself," Esley said.

Mr. Pratt walked slowly and was sometimes in pain because of his war injuries, "but you never got a sense of anything other than equanimity, and that's why I always think of him in a very Buddha-like way," Esley said. "He had that calmness and that centeredness and that being in the present."

Mr. Pratt loved the independence and natural beauty of island life. He often started conversations by talking about the island's weather or its bird life.

"It's a different way of living," he told the Maine Sunday Telegram in a 1989 interview. "You have to learn to live with yourself. It separates the men from the boys."

Mr. Pratt also researched, designed and built birdhouses to attract migratory birds, and held several patents for wooden birdhouses he placed throughout the island. He was federally licensed to band birds and tracked and identified birds on Matinicus, working closely with the Audubon Society.

Mr. Pratt was a 32nd degree Mason.

Surviving are his wife, Ada Ames Pratt of Matinicus Island and Rockland, and one son, James Pratt of Portland.

A memorial service will be held at 10 a.m. Feb. 29 at the Congregational Church in Rockland. Burial will be held at a later date. Arrangements are by Carpenter Funeral Home, Rockland.

He was raised in Massachusetts and visited Matinicus Island as a young child with his mother.

He was a World War II Navy veteran and served in the Aleutian theater. He was seriously injured when he was shot down from a ship's tower and was hospitalized for 18 months. Doctors told him he would probably never walk again.

While he was in the hospital, he kept talking about his memories of visiting Matinicus as a child, but he couldn't remember the name of the island. A nurse got out a map and helped him find it.

"He was drawn to it because of his desire for quiet and privacy and independence, but also because of its beauty," Esley said, "and he decided that that was where he wanted to go when he got out of the hospital."

After moving to the island, Mr. Pratt met his wife, Ada Ames Pratt, and became a lobsterman and woodworker. He made cedar lobster buoys for fishermen along the entire Maine coast.

In 1963, he helped install the island's power grid and poles for microwave telephone and electrical service. He managed the island power station until his death.

He was commonly sighted driving slowly around the island in his truck as he worked on telephone and electric WEST BATH - Foster M. Pratt, 82, who spent decades serving his community in a wide range of roles, died Sunday at his home on New Meadows Road.

"Foster was a wonderful friend, very loyal and he had a great deal of concern for other people," said Courtney Stover, whose friendship with Mr. Pratt extended back

PASSAGES

Each day the newspaper selects one obituary and seeks to learn more about the life of a person who has lived and worked in Maine.

We look for a person who has made a mark on the community or the person's family and circle of friends in small but lasting ways.

more than six decades. "He was just a great guy. Everybody I know loved him."

He was born in Bowdoinham, a son of E. Melvin and Mary Rankin Pratt, attended Bath schools and Morse High School. He later worked for Hyde Windless, Bath, where he completed a three-year apprenticeship program.

On April 17, 1934, he married Dorothy Moore, and they owned and operated Pratt's Store on High Street in Bath.

Mr. Pratt worked at Bath Iron Works as a machinist and later in the accounting department for 22 years.

Mr. Pratt dedicated much of his life, and much of his time, to serving his community in numerous ways.

Mr. Pratt first became involved with local government in 1941, when he served two years on the board of the Common Council in Bath, under the old bicameral system. In 1950, he was elected a Sagadahoc County commissioner and served continuously until 1972. In 1972, he was elected clerk of Superior Court in Sagadahoc County, and served a four-year term.

He also served as past director of the County Commissioners Association of Maine, and as a member of the Twin County Soil and Conservation for Androscoggin and Sagadahoc counties.

His civic involvements also included serving as an honorary corporator of the Bath Savings Institution, treasurer of the Bath Country Golf Club and past president of the former Colonial Club.

He also was a member of the Corliss Street Baptist Church, Bath, where he was treasurer for several years and served on the finance committee. He was a life member of the Solar Lodge of Masons in Bath; a 30-year volunteer and benevolent member of the Bath Fire Department, and a former member of the Bodwell Grange at Small Point in Phippsburg.

He was named founding father of the Bath Senior Citizens Building for the work he did to secure the land and raise the money for the center.

"The senior citizens center would not have happened without him," Mr. Stover said. "He was the key to the whole thing. . . . He did a lot when he retired. He didn't go home and sit in a rocking chair."

Mr. Pratt not only had the vision about what could be achieved, he had the energy and commitment to make sure it happened, Mr. Stover said.

Mr. Pratt enjoyed hunting, golfing and spending time with people. He also enjoyed playing the saxophone, and played throughout the state in Joe Avery's Band.

A daughter, Mary L. Pratt, died April 20, 1974.

Surviving are his wife of 59 years, Dorothy M. Pratt of West Bath; a daughter, Martha E. Pratt of West Bath; a sister, Beulah Dunton of Lisbon Falls and Florida; two grandchildren, Amy E. Winter and William F. Hinkley; and a great-grandson, Maxwell Hinkley.

A service will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday at Mayo, Curtis & Hill Funeral Home in Bath. There will be no visiting hours. Spring burial will be in Oak Grove Cemetery, Bath.

Funeral services for George D. Pratt, 73, of 7 Tremont Street, formerly prominent in Masonic and Knights of Pythias circles in the Kennebec Valley, and for many years a resident of Portland, will be held at 11 a. m. Saturday in the funeral home of W. Russell Harlow, 3 William Street, followed at 2 p. m. by a service in Bowdoinham, where interment will take place.

Mr. Pratt was found dead in his home Thursday afternoon by neighbors who investigated when they noticed he had not been about as usual. Death was believed to have been due to natural causes. He had lived alone at the Tremont Street home since the death of his wife last February.

Born in Bowdoinham, Aug. 14, 1867, son of Capt. J. B. Pratt, a master mariner of two generations ago, Mr. Pratt in early manhood was employed in the Railway Mail service between Portland and Farmington. He was then proprietor of a general store in Bowdoinham until about 1902, when he came to Portland. He was employed as shipper by the Chenery Manufacturing Company and then by the Parker Thomas Company on Middle Street. Until he retired in 1935 he was shipper for the Casco Paper Box Company.

Mr. Pratt was for 49 years a member of the Masons, a past master of Village Lodge Lodge, No. 26, of Bowdoinham, also a member of Mount Sinai Chapter, Woodfords; Portland Council, Portland Commandery, Knights Templar; and the Past Masters' Association, and Deering Chapter, OES. He was for 50 years a member of Kennebec Lodge, K. of P., Bowdoinham.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Harry N. Ross of Scarsdale, N. Y., and Mrs. Percy L. Davis, Rumford; a son, Howard E. Pratt, Vanceboro; and four granddaughters, Annabelle G. and Louise N. Pratt, and Dorothy and Janet Davis.
