Chapter "59" "Erland L"

CAMDEN - Capt. Erland Littlefield "Cappy" Quinn, 90, of 39 Sea St., who sailed magnificent yachts and work-a-day fishing vessels, died Thursday at Rockland Convalescent Center after a brief illness.

Raised on Eagle Island in Penobscot Bay, he spent most of his life on the water and became an able mariner who could handle almost any situation, said his daughter, Arline Q. Heline of Camden. 7-25-1991

Once, while pulling lobster traps with her father, an ocean swell cast the boat onto the rocks, Mrs. Heline remembered.

PASSAGES

Each day the Press

Herald selects one obituary and seeks to learn more about the life of a person who has lived and worked in Southern Maine. We look for a person who has made a mark on the community or the person's family and circle of friends in small but lasting ways.

"I was holding onto the rail with one hand and my brother by the scruff of the neck with another," she recalled. "He had to wait for the next swell. I thought it was real neat the way my dad got us out of that situation, no problem."

He was born in Penobscot, son of John H. and Harriet C. Littlefield Quinn, and attended school on Eagle Island. After his father died, he helped his mother operate the Quinn House on Eagle Island at the age of 16.

The hotel closed in 1931, and he became captain of the private yacht "Hippocampus" for the Porter family of Great Spruce Head Island for many years. Capt. Quinn also served on several other private yachts for notable families in the area.

He was a member of Marine Masonic Lodge, Deer Isle, and the York and Scottish Rite Bodies. He also was a member of Kora Temple Shrine and was an honorary member of Mid-Coast Shrine Club.

Surviving are two sons, John W. of Long Island, N.Y., and Robert L. of Eagle Island; two daughters, Evelyn L. Dean and Arline Q. Heline, both of Camden; 10 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

A funeral will be held at 9 a.m. Monday at the Camden Yacht Club. After the service, the Sunbeam Mission will leave for the committal service at Quinn Family Cemetery, Eagle Island. Arrangements are by Laite & Pratt Funeral Home.

Stanley Jefferson Quinn held many jobs on North Haven Island

NORTH HAVEN — Stanley Jefferson Quinn, 80, an island road commissioner, estate caretaker, clamdigger, mailman and dump manager, died Monday at the Knox Center in Rockland.

Mr. Quinn and his late wife, Dorothy Perry Quinn, went on their honeymoon on the island of North Haven in Penobscot Bay. They liked it so much they moved there shortly after they were married, and he ended up staying for 60 years, said a daughter, Judith Schofield of Owls Head.

Mr. Quinn worked at a variety of jobs, depending on the season or the economy. He was the island's road commissioner for many years, and also worked as a clamdigger and went out on herring boats. "Anything to make a living and support his family," his daughter said.

He was a part-time mail carrier on the island for several years before taking a job as caretaker of the Cabot Estate. The Cabots were a family of wealthy lawyers from Boston, with a compound of several homes and sailboats which Mr. Quinn maintained.

PASSAGES

Each day the newspaper selects one obituary and seeks to learn more about the life of a person who has lived and worked in Maine. We look for a person who has made a mark on the community or the person's family and circle of friends in small but lasting ways.

Later, Mr. Quinn held a job as greenskeeper at the North Haven Golf Course for about 15 years.

During his retirement, he worked part time running the island's dump, a job he enjoyed, his daughter said, because it gave him the chance to chat occasionally with almost everybody on the island.

A veteran of World War II, Mr. Quinn served in the Navy Seabees. One of his details was to go to Pearl Harbor and help repair the damage from the Japanese bombing attack.

Mr. Quinn enjoyed bird watching and kept a number of bird feeders in his yard. He also enjoyed collecting coins and gardening.

In recent years, his daily routine involved getting the mail at the post office, meeting the daily ferry from Rockland, and going on a drive around the island looking for wildlife.

He was a member of Moses Webster Lodge of Masons on Vinalhaven and attended the North Haven Baptist Church.

Born at Onset, Mass., a son of George S. and Pauline Hansen Quinn, he graduated in 1933 from Rockland High School.

His wife died in 1995.

Surviving are a son, Jeff Quinn of Warren; two daughters, Mrs. Elliott (Jane) Brown of North Haven and Mrs. Bill (Judith) Schofield of Owls Head; two sisters, Ethel Earle of Ohio and Lucy Williams of Vinalhaven; six grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

There will be no visiting hours. A graveside service will be held in the spring at Seaview Cemetery.

said his daughter, Rebecca Jacques. "There was a woman on his route who always paid him in pennies. One day, he'd had it and told the woman 'I'll pay you five dollars if you buy from Old Tavern.'"

He had to be at the dairy at 5 a.m. every day to load up with ice and dairy products. On stormy days, it would take him a lot longer than usual. "The babies need their milk," he would say, as he sometimes used snowshoes in delivering his route.

He later lived on Providence Avenue in Falmouth for many years and drove a milk route that covered that area of Falmouth, including portions of routes 1 and 88. He retired at about age 50 because of ill health.

Mr. Quinnam was born in Wiscasset, a son of Harry and Vinnie Smith Quinnam, and after graduating from Wiscasset High School lived and worked in the Boston area for a while.

He was a member of the Falmouth Lions, the Odd Fellows and the Yarmouth Masons. He enjoyed fishing and hunting in the Rangeley and Sebago areas.

Mr. Quinnam is survived by his wife, Gladys White Sherman Quinnam of Falmouth; two sons, Dr. Morrill Jr. of Silver Spring, Md., and David of Hedgeville, W.Va.; a daughter, Mrs. Benjamin (Rebecca) Jacques of Stoneham, Mass.; a sister, Margaret Wagstaff of Damariscotta; nine grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

A funeral will be held at 4 p.m. Saturday at Lindquist Funeral Home, Yarmouth, with the Rev. Ronald

ARTHUR P. 'ART' RAFFORD

ASHLAND - Arthur P. Rafford, passed on into God's care Nov. 14, 2004, at the wonderful age of 83, surrounded by his loving family and wonderful and loving caregiver, Rayann Rafford, who he trusted and loved very much. Art was born June 5, 1921, in Ashland, the only child of Ervin and Florence (Delaite) Rafford. "Faltering in steps in recent days, nothing the same in his same old ways, but now free to go with arms wide open to greet all his loved ones on the other side"

He attended schools in Sheridan and Ashland and graduated from the University of Maine in Orono in 1943, with highest distinction. He returned to Ashland to teach agronomy (agricultural science) at Ashland High School. In August of 1947, Art was married to Harriet "Hattie" (Boucher) Rafford. Later, he left his teaching career and began to farm the family land. He planted potatoes, and had a herd of Holstein cows and worked long but enjoyable hours with his loving wife Hattie by his side. He loved the earth and watching things grow. He returned to teaching and attended Gorham College where he earned a master's degree in Industrial Arts and once again taught at Ashland High School until his retirement in 1984. He retired to stay home to care for his beloved wife Hattie as she fought a courageous battle with cancer until her passing in 1985. Art was an easy-going, kind, gentle, generous, and considerate person... a real "people person." He never had a bad word to say about anyone and had a large circle of friends who he cherished. He enjoyed the woods very much, hunting, fishing, and especially spending time at his camp on Fish Lake. He was a great story teller but also an equally good listener. Art was a member of the Ashland Rotary Club and had the distinction of being named a Paul Harris Fellow. He was a proud member of the Masonic Pioneer Lodge No. 72 AF & AM of Ashland and a member of the Anah Temple Shrine of Bangor.

Arthur is survived by three loving children, Leo Rafford and his wife, Jean (Beaulier), of Yarmouth, Natalie Smith and her husband, Malcolm "Bunky", of Ashland, and Patricia A. Rafford of Ashland; five grandchildren, Melissa Rafford of California, Adam Rafford and Erica Rafford, both of Yarmouth, Katie (Smith) Diferderico and her husband, Louie, of Millinocket, Ted Smith and his wife, Pam, of Pittsfield; one special cousin, Pauline Belyea of Presque Isle, and several loving nieces and nephews. He will be fondly remembered by his special friend, Bob Sturgeon who helped Art along the way and was always there for him. He will also be sadly missed by his constant faithful companion, his dog, Cody. In addition to his wife, Hattie; Art was predeceased by a grandson, Allen Leo Smith, in 1968.

Relatives and Friends may call 2-4 and 6-8 p.m. Wednesday, at the Union Congregational Church, Sheridan Road, Ashland. A funeral service will be held 2 p.m. Thursday, at the church. Committal service and interment will be in the Ashland Municipal Cemetery. In lieu of flowers, those who wish may contribute in his memory to the Arthur Rafford Memorial Scholarship Fund in care of Lynwood McHatten at the guidance department at Ashland Community High School. A service of Stimson-Ouellette Funeral Home, 114 Exchange St., Ashland.

ROGER E. RAFFORD

CARIBOU - Roger E. Rafford
died peacefully Wednesday, Jan. 10, 2007,
 with his wife and stepdaughter by his side, at his home after a brief illness. He was born Oct.

10, 1923, in Ashland, one of five sons born to Ralph and Esther (Howes) Rafford.

He attended Ashland schools, graduating in 1942, at which time he joined the U.S.
Air Force. Roger began serving his country by attending flight radio school, California, where he was trained to be a radio gunner. He survived 35 missions flown over Germany during World War II, in the belly of a B24 bomber plane.
This was a miraculous feat considering the average survival rate flown was 7-10 missions. After his tour of duty, he was proud to be honorably discharged and returned home to Maine. Upon his return, Roger worked various jobs throughout his life, including poultry farms in Rockland and Augusta. As a young man returning home, he was involved in his family and community as a member and deacon of the Congregational Church, Hallowell, as well as a Boy Scout leader and Mason. He was a 60-year member of the Pioneer Lodge, Ashland and a member of the National Youth Organization. His love of camping, fishing and hunting was evident in his time spent at his camp on Squa Pan Lake.
This piece of heirship property was his pride and joy, and he built years of memories there with family and friends. He enjoyed watching the New York Yankees play baseball and was an avid fan. He was never slow in making this fact known to Boston Red Sox fans.

Roger was predeceased by his parents; and three brothers, Arnold, Dwyndal and Ralph "Pinkie;" by two wives, Gladys and Charlotte. Roger will be sadly missed by his adoring wife of 13 years, Gloria. He is survived by two daughters and their husbands, Deborah Kidder and Donald of Ashland, Karen Nichols and Norman of Litchfield; a stepdaughter, Lourie Swimm and her boyfriend, James Guy, of Washburn. He will be missed by his grandchildren, Douglas Kidder, Dara (Kidder) Guy, Justin and Seth Nichols and their spouses. He had a special bond with his grandchildren, Zachary and Kira Swimm and they will miss him greatly. He is also survived by his brother, Richard and wife, Marie, of Illinois, many other family and friends; and will be remembered by his special friend, Hershel Conley of Caribou.
Gloria wishes to thank the Caribou Hospice team, who lovingly cared for her and Roger during his illness. A special appreciation from her daughter, Lourie, goes to Bonnie, Ruth, Gail, Audrey and Robin.

Visitation will be held 7-9 p.m. Friday, Jan. 12, at Staples Funeral Home, 53 Brunswick Ave., Gardiner, where a funeral will be held 2 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 13, with full military honors. Rogers's body will be laid to rest at the old Maine Veterans' Memorial Cemetery, Augusta, in the spring. There will be a reception held locally, 2-4 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 20, at Gloria and Roger's home, in Caribou. In lieu of flowers and in memory of Roger, donations may be sent to the United Baptist Church, Caribou, building fund. Condolences may be forwarded to Gloria Rafford, 36
Lower Lyndon St., Caribou, ME 04736.
