Clinton K. 'Kim' Smith

Vinalhaven storekeeper, town clerk

VINALHAVEN — Clinton Kimball "Kim" Smith, 80, longtime town clerk and proprietor of the island's only hardware store, died Tuesday at his home after a brief illness.

In June 1946, Mr. Smith and his first cousin, Bruce F. Grindle, bought the I.W. Fifield Hardware Store from his uncle, Irving Fifield. The store has been a Main Street gathering spot for islanders since the 1800s.

PASSAGES

Each day the newspaper selects one obituary and seeks to learn more about the life of a person who has lived and worked in Maine. We look for a person who has made a mark on the community or the person's family and circle of friends in small but lasting ways.

"It was a place to get news... an arena for political discussion," said Robert Candage, who bought the store in April. "They had chairs up front where the old-timers would tell stories and watch the goings-on on Main Street."

"The hardware store has always been a point of sociability on the island," said Lois Candage, Robert's wife. "My father spent a good many hours at the store."

Mr. Smith was known for his expansive knowledge of how things work and for his vast inventory of parts. Back when radios and televisions had tubes, Mr. Smith was the person islanders went to for repair work.

"This was a place to come when Kim was here," said Robert Candage, "to get that unrepairable item repaired, or to find that part of a 1934 Silvertone radio or something. He even kept parts of flashlights on hand. He knew every crack and corner and drawer in the store."

Mr. Smith was Vinalhaven's town clerk from 1963 until he retired in 1987. He was president of the Vinalhaven Historical Society, and people often went to see him at the store for help in sorting out questions of island genealogy.

When he sold the store and retired in April, the Chamber of Commerce and his fellow islanders threw a party at the American Legion Hall, honoring him for his many years of service to the town as a businessman and town official.

Born on Vinalhaven, a son of Benjamin K. and Florance V. Kittredge Smith, he was a graduate of Vinalhaven High School.

Mr. Smith worked at Bath Iron Works for four years and served in the Army in Europe during World War II with the 16th Tactical Reconnaissance Squadron.

He was a charter member of the Moses Webster Masonic Lodge and a member of the Woodcock-Cassie-Combs American Legion.

Surviving are several cousins.

A funeral will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday in Union Church. The Rev. Robert Genevick and Elder Robert Candage will officiate. Burial will be in Roberts Cemetery. Arrangements are by Carpenter Funeral Home, Rockland.
