Charles E. Snow.

Charles E. Snow, the well known contractor, died at his residence, in Portland, Feb. 14th. He had been sick for several weeks, but it was hoped that he would recover, and for a short time his condition seemed to improve. The cause of his death was heart failure.

Mr. Snow was born in Scarborough, October 29, 1847, and came to Portland when a young man and entered into the business of mason and contractor, always continuing in this line and becoming very successful. He was a thirty-second degree mason, and a member of the Scottish Rite, was Past Master of Ancient Landmark Lodge, Past High Priest of Greenleaf Chapter, Past Master of Portland Council, R. and S. M., and past Commander of St. Alban Commandery. Mr. Snow also belonged to the Maine Lodge of Odd Fellows and to the order of Red Men. He was a member of the Maine Charitable Mechanics' society and of the Portland Builders' association. In 1894 and 1895 he was one of the councilmen that represented ward seven in the city government and last year was a strong candidate for the nomination for alderman from that ward.

A wife, six daughters and two sons are left. The eldest son is Mr. Charles L. Snow of this city.

OLD ORCHARD BEACH — Fred H. Snow, a man who amassed a fortune in the canning business, died today unexpectedly at his home on East Grand Avenue. He was 81.

MR. SNOW WAS as well known in racing circles as in canning. He started a harness stable in 1946, and gave up his hobbies of golf and hunting to devote all his spare time to horses.

His horses were exercised on the beach at Pine Point, and their owner gave them names close to his own—names such as Snowberry, Snow Prince, Snow Hanover and Snow Rifle.
