LEWISTON - Carl B. "Bart" Swanton Jr., 77, born in Gorham, died Jan. 23, following a short illness.

A naturalist and avid outdoorsman, he loved fishing, hunting, and quiet tramping through the woods. Following retirement, after 35 years at M.I.T./Lincoln Laboratory, and an earlier career at MITRE, he and Mina lived in Casco.

He loved golfing, and celebrated his first hole-in-one at Paris Hill Country Club in 1997. Listening to jazz was a life long passion, and dancing an earlier one. Light of feet and tall of stature, his quick wit and sound delivery of jokes kept all of us laughing. He embraced his life, family, and many friends, never shirking from assisting all in times of need.

Enjoying laughter was a way of life. A Mason and Korean War, United States Air Force veteran, he served his country and community.

He leaves his wife, Mina; and children, Carrie and husband, Joseph Robinson II, of Paris, Nancy and husband, Jim Stobie, of Westford, Mass., Ruth E. Swanton and husband, David Harding, of New Haven, Conn., Charles Swanton and wife, Deborah Uotila, of Fairbanks, Alaska., and Carl B. III and wife, Paula Swanton, of Otisfield; grandchildren, John Carl Robinson and wife, Natalia Alexandra, of Raymond, Merilee Robinson and husband, Michael Grubb, of Fredericksburg, Va., Megan and Lindsey Stobie, Gus and Owen Swanton, and Katie Harding; great-grandchildren, John Joseph Grubb, and Juliana Bailey Robinson; a sister Alma and husband, Hal Husbands, of Del.; and a brother Dr. Joseph Swanton of Va; cousins, nieces and nephews. We thank the staff of M1 at Central Maine Medical Center for taking such good care of Bart, especially Dr.'s Boedeker, Williams and Miller, as well as the nursing staff for insuring peaceful passing.

He was predeceased by his parents, Mildred and Carl B. Swanton Sr., and a beloved sister Betty Hubbard.

PASSAGES

Each day the Press Herald selects one obituary and seeks to learn more about the life of a person who has lived and worked in Southern Maine. We look for a person who has made a mark on the community or the person's family and circle of friends in small but lasting ways.

Prior to World War II he worked as a journeyman on the bending floor at Bath Iron Works, and during the war he was an assistant foreman at New England Shipbuilding Corp. in South Portland. While at the shipyard he was cited for heroism when he prevented an explosion by outrunning an acetylene fire and shutting the gas off before it reached the tank. During the war he also served as a port security officer with the U.S. Coast Guard Reserve. He returned to Bath when the war ended and lived there since Born Oct. 11, 1915, at Hambleton, West Va., he was the eldest child of Albert Lee and Lucinda Carr Swearingen. He graduated from Parsons High School in 1934 and served in the Civil Conservation Corps at Valley Head, West Va., before moving to Maine in 1937.

He married the former Dorothy Louise Parshley on Sept. 3, 1938.

He was a member of Polar Star Lodge of Masons, the Order of Eastern Star, the Bath Lodge of Elks, the Coasters, Woolwich Historical Society, and Bath Area Senior Citizens.

Surviving in addition to his wife are two daughters, Gloria A. DeCapua of Cape Elizabeth and Joyce L. Kennedy of Tuckahoe, N.Y.; a son David L. of Bath; a brother, John F. of Bath; a sister, Charlene Howard of Buckeye, West. Va.; seven grandchildren, two great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Services will be held at 11 a.m. Thursday at Grace Episcopal Church, 1100 Washington St. The Rev. John S. Paddock will officiate. Burial will be in Oak Grove Cemetery.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by Mayo, Curtis & Hill Funeral Home, 819 High St.

Herman P. Sweetser

Special Dispatch to Sunday Telegram

Cumberland Center, March 11—Republican voters of Cumberland and Falmouth today had a third candidate from whom to select their next Representative to State Legislature.

He was Herman P. Sweetser of this town, widely known pomologist, and formerly attached to the horticultural staffs of the State and the University of Maine.

Owner of extensive apple orchards, Sweetser resigned in December after nine years as manager of the New England Cold Storage Company in Portland, to devote more time to his personal interests. He majored in horticulture at the University of Maine, becoming assistant horticulturist in the State Department of Agriculture, and later professor of horticulture at the University.

For a time Sweetser was head of Opportunity Farm for Boys in New Gloucester; he is currently a trustee of Greely Institute here in Cumberland Center, and for several years was president of the Cumberland County Farm Bureau. In the First World War he was executive secretary to the Federal Food Administrator for Maine, and in this war served on Local Draft Board No. 5 and in Civilian Defense. A member of the Portland Kiwanis Club, Sweetser is president of the local Parent Teacher Association; a founder of the local Men's Club; and a Mason. He has been moderator at town meeting many years. Sweetser is married and has three children, including a son in the service and a daughter married to an Army flier.

This will be the second time that the post of representative from these towns has been sought by three Republicans and the first that a woman has been a candidate. Four years ago William E. Dow defeated Neils M. Knudsen and Philip W. Wheeler. Sweetser will be opposed by Mrs. Christine S. Gray and Leonard A. Morse.
