James D. Watson

Boothbay Harbor selectman, submariner

9/1/79
BOOTHBAY HARBOR — James D. Watson, a former Boothbay selectman who served 30 years in the United States Navy, including 20 in the submarine service, died Friday. He was 79.

"He was a very strong, spiritual man, a wonderfully dedicated friend to pretty much the town as a whole," said his son-in-law, Larry Reynolds.

PASSAGES

Each day the newspaper selects one obituary and seeks to learn more about the life of a person who has lived and worked in Maine. We look for a person who has made a mark on the community or the person's family and circle of friends in small but lasting ways.

"He was famous for his navy stories," his son, Jerome Watson, who lives in Boothbay, added. "He didn't have a big repertoire of jokes, but the ones he told were consistently funny."

At that, Mr. Watson's family broke into warm, appreciative laughter.

Mr. Watson was not a particularly tall man — he stood about 5-foot-8, but his presence was considerable.

At the same time, his caring, trusting nature immediately put people at ease, his family said. In fact, his son recalled, "he was honest to a fault."

His honesty was well-known in Boothbay, where he was president of the Boothbay Chamber of Commerce for 14 years, a selectman and a founder of St. Columba's Episcopal Church, where he was senior warden for 13 years.

Mr. Watson often spoke of his years in the submarine service, and was a member and past president of the Squabus Chapter of World War II submarine veterans in Portsmouth, N.H.

During the war, his submarines came under direct attack several times, and he won many medals for his service, his family said.

He entered the navy as an enlisted man, and retired in 1971 as a lieutenant.

"He was one of the top navigation officers in the navy," his son-in-law said.

Mr. Watson also was a talented woodworker, who opened a small furniture shop and restored antiques.

"From just dilapidated, collapsing, falling-down, in-pieces furniture, he would put it back together perfectly," his son-in-law said. "People would say, 'Wait a minute, that's not my piece. It looks too good.'"

Mr. Watson was an expert hunter, an active member of the National Rifle Association and the Sportsman's Alliance of Maine.

He was past president of the Boothbay Fish and Game Association, and was, for 18 years, a hunter safety instructor.

"He taught me how to shoot when I was probably 10 years old, how to handle firearms safely, and he taught me woodcraft. Taught me how to fish, he taught all that stuff," his son said.

He was born in Kankakee, Ill., the son of William and Madge Watson.

He was married to Janet Tatham Watson for 53 years.

Mr. Watson was chairman of the Boothbay Parks and Recreation, chaplain of Bay View Masonic Lodge and a member of the Food Pantry of Boothbay Harbor.

Surviving are his wife of Boothbay; his son, also of Boothbay; three daughters, Judith Thelen of West Salem, Wis., Janae Macht, also of Wisconsin, and Jill Reynolds of Boothbay; two brothers, William Jr. of New York state and Donald of Illinois; two sisters, Anne Montgomery and Jane Coddington, both of Oregon; a former daughter-in-law, six grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

A funeral will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at 2 p.m. at Our Lady Queen of Peace Church in Boothbay Harbor. Margaret Russell, vicar of St. Columba's Episcopal Church, will officiate.

A graveside service will be held Tuesday at 10 a.m. at Oceanview Cemetery in Boothbay.

Arrangements are by Simmons, Harrington & Hall Funeral Home in Boothbay.

Wally completed a course in Mathematics for the Construction Trades at the Central Maine Vocational-Technical Institute in Auburn on January 16, 1968. He worked for H.E. Sargent from 1954 into the early 60's as an equipment operator, and for the Structural Concrete Plant in Auburn as a Supervisor.

Wally created the business of Central Maine Pre-Cast, and was the originator of the Link Log Fireplaces & Lincoln Logs, owning patent rights for all the New England states. He had a very strong work ethic, creating the business of National Pool & Spa, Inc., and installing in-ground pools all over Maine for over 30 years. His pool crews affectionately referred to their job sites as "Wally's World". Wally was a task-master, and had a reputation of taking pride in making sure the job was done right and he was a man you could trust to stand behind his work 110%. He was a resident of Gray since 1953.

Wally was a member of the Gray Kiwanis for many years, and was Master Mason of Lodge #20 in Farmington for 40 years.

Wally's hobbies include camping, antique cars, traveling to Winter Gardens, Fla., in his motor home with Doreen and his little black poodle Inky (a.k.a. Sit-um). Wally and Doreen enjoyed trips to Hawaii, Acapulco, and the West Indies.

This past spring, Wally drove to his winter home in Winter Garden, Fla., where he enjoyed sharing a day at Sea World and another day at Silver Springs with his family.

Wally is survived by his beloved wife of 47 years, Doreen of Gray, his only son, Gregory and his fiancé, Susie Sibley of Brownville Junction. His special delight was in a grandson, James; and a granddaughter, Kayla. He has a step-sister, Louise Bailey and her husband, Ron of Hebron, Maine and lots of close friends.

PICTURE HERE Carl H. Watts, 85, of Richmond and St. Petersburg, Fla., died Tuesday, March 25, 2003, at St. Anthony's Hospital after a short illness in Florida. He was born on Swans Island in Maine.

Following the death of his mother, Emma Watts, Carl moved to Jonesboro with his father, Morton H. Watts, where other Watts family members lived. Upon his father's remarriage to Ada Reeds Watts, Carl moved to Richmond at the age of 10. His only brother, Wilson H. Watts, was tragically killed in an accident at the age of 23.

Upon graduating from Richmond High School, Carl held various jobs until joining the Army Air Corps. He was discharged at the end of World War II after serving in Central America. In 1944, he married Carolyn Florence Curtis of Richmond.

Carl worked 40 years for the Department of Agriculture. He started out as a potato inspector in Aroostook County and retired as the director for the Division of Marketing with the state of Maine. For many years, he and Carolyn resided at his childhood home at 8 Chestnut St. in Richmond.

He had served the town of Richmond as a selectman and took a real interest in the development of the community. Upon retirement, he drove and headed up the Richmond School Department's bus garage.

Carl and Carolyn began spending winter months in St. Petersburg, Fla. Every summer the Watts would return to Richmond to stay with family and visit their many old friends.

Carl was a lifetime member of Post 132 of the American Legion in Richmond, where he served in many positions, including commander. He was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, a Mason and a 32nd Degree member of the Kora Shrine in Lewiston. He was an avid Boston Red Sox fan and enjoyed the game of golf.

Carl and Carolyn leave two daughters, Carol Ann Uhle of Emmaus, Pa., and Patricia Watts of Richmond, and their two sons-in-law, Richard F. Uhle and Robert G. Fairburn; and two grand-daughters, Maria Uhle of Knoxville, Tenn., and Jennifer Uhle of Germantown, Md. They also leave many nieces, nephews and cousins.
