Annual Communication, May 1–3, 2017

Point Lookout Resort, 67 Atlantic Highway, Northport, ME 04849

The 2017 Annual Communication will be different than any previous Grand Lodge session in many ways, perhaps most particularly in the venue selected...the beautiful mountainside retreat overlooking beautiful Penobscot Bay. Attendees will be staying in log cabins with one, two or three bedrooms. All Point Lookout cabins have a living room with a cozy Franklin fireplace, and a kitchenette equipped with a refrigerator and either a microwave oven or stove depending on the number of bedrooms in the cabin. Wi-Fi everywhere.

Alongside is a table with a description of the cabins available and the cabin / bedroom price per night. The use of two and three bedroom cabins and the group discount we have arranged allow us to offer accommodations at prices substantially below what has been available for Grand Lodge Annual Communications in several years.

You may also rent the cabin either before or after the Annual Communication at the discounted group rate to extend your stay in the mid-coast region, perhaps visiting Camden, the Penobscot Narrows Bridge and Observatory, or just stay at the Point Lookout Resort ... and enjoy time with your Brethren and friends at the bowling lanes and fitness center, or along the mountainside trails. Point Lookout is less than two hours from Bar Harbor and Acadia National Park.

Point Lookout Cabin Accommodations

All of the available one bedroom cabins are on the mountainside, away from the Hedges Hall meeting facility where the annual meeting will be held. All three bedroom and two bedroom - two bath units are in a cluster near Hedges Hall and the hospitality cabin.
