NEW HARBOR — Donald A. Wotton Sr., who spent his entire life on or near the ocean, died March 4, 2001, at the Maine Veterans' Hospital of various lung diseases. He was 68.

A son of Harold and Doris Gilbert Wotton, Mr. Wotton

PASSAGES

Each day the newspaper selects one obituary and seeks to learn more about the life of a person who has lived and worked in Maine. We look for a person who has made a mark on the community or the person's family and circle of friends in lasting ways.

began lobstering as a young boy and later joined the Navy, where he once served 180 consecutive days on board a ship.

In all, Mr. Wotton spent 20 years in the Navy, including stints in both the Korean and Vietnam wars.

He made three trips around Antarctica before retiring from the Navy in 1970 with four Good Conduct medals.

"He went around the world a couple different times," said his son, Donald Wotton Jr.

After retiring from the Navy, Mr. Wotton returned to his native New Harbor and spent a decade working as lobsterman.

During that time, he was one of the founders of the New Harbor Co-op, a store and wharf owned by local fishermen.

"They knew that property along the shore was going to be bought up, so they made sure fishermen would have access," Mr. Wotton's son, Donald, said.

When he stopped lobstering altogether, Mr. Wotton opened Wotton's Fish market, and later Wotton's Redemption Center, both of which he owned and operated.

Mr. Wotton particularly enjoyed the bottle redemption center for the lively conversation and noontime card games.

"They'd play blackjack or poker, not for a lot of money just a little gambling," Mr. Wotton's son said.

"Sometimes, my father would tell people to wait until after the next hand, so he'd have money to buy the bottles.

"Everyone would come in, and he'd talk to all of them," Donald Jr. said.

Mr. Wotton was a member of the Bristol Masonic Lodge, the Bristol Redmen, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion.

Surviving are his wife, Geraldine Wotton of New Harbor; three sons, James Sanders of Frankfort, Shaw Sanders of Pittsburgh and Donald A. Jr. of Bristol; three daughters, Mrs. John (Laura E.) McGeechan of Detro (Maine), Mrs. Eric (Heidi Jo) Leeman of New Harbor and Dawn Rodowicz of North Falmouth, Mass.; three brothers, Carroll of Bristol, Raymond of Meriden, Conn., and Clinton of York; three sisters, Laura Smith of Lak Ronkonoma, N.Y., Barbara Perkins of Frankfort and Marilyn Doe of Winterport; and 10 grandchildren.

"He really loved the grandchildren," Mr. Wotton's son, Donald, said.

"My boys had some lobster traps, and when we'd go back he'd be waiting at the dock to see what they had.

"He'd be gleaming all over," Donald Jr. said.

A gathering of family and friends will begin at 5 p.m. Thursday at the Strong Funeral Home, 612 Main St.

A service will follow at 5:30 p.m.
